Convention Plans Polished Up as Ike Gains Vigor

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower sat up and conducted White House business for 45 minutes today. But if he talked any politics it was a White House secret—until tomorrow, at least.

Associated Press Wirephoto

GOP'S KEYNOTER

Washington's Gov. Langlie

His 45 minutes in an easy chair, going over mainly routine matters with assistants, was the longest period Eisenhower has spent sitting up since his June 9 intestinal operation.

INDIFFERENT TO SESSION

So far as the presidential press office was willing to make known, Eisenhower paid little attention to a meeting six miles away from Walter Reed Army Hospital—one that had to base its plans on his second-term intentions. This was the final session on arrangements for the Republican National Convention starting Aug. 20.

Did Eisenhower know of the meeting?

"Sure," said press secretary James C. Hagerty, adding the President had discussed convention plans many times with GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall before his most recent illness.

ANXIETY EASING

There was a sign of relaxing anxiety over the President's illness. The White House cut the number of daily medical bulletins on his condition from three to two. Hagerty said he thought the midday bulletin could be discontinued because it wouldn't add anything to what the public already knew.

Hereafter the medical reports will be issued at 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. EDT weekdays, 10:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Sundays, 8 a.m. and 1 p.m.-followed by a brief late bulletin around 5 p.m.—on Saturdays.

SIRLOIN STEAK

The President switched from a steady diet of chopped beef patty to sirloin steak for lunch today.

That was the main news in the 5 p.m. progress bulletin issued by his physicians, Maj. Gens. Leonard D. Heaton and Howard M. Snyder.

The bulletin said:

"The President's condition continues to progress very satisfactorily.

"His pulse, temperature, blood pressure and respiration are normal.

"After lunch the President napped for an hour and a half, read at intervals and had a visit from the deputy assistant to the President—Maj. Gen. Wilton Persons — who discussed legislative matters.

"For luncheon today the President had a small sirloin steak instead of the usual chopped beef patty."

GOP Picks Gov. Langlie As Keynoter

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—Republicans today chose Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington as their GOP National Convention keynoter.

They also got a prediction from their national chairman that President Eisenhower will remain in the race for a second term.

Chairman Leonard W. Hall replied "not the slightest" when reporters asked whether he thinks there is "even the faint possibility" Eisenhower might quit the race.

'SPEAKS FOR SELF'

Hall made plain he had had no word from the President. He said Eisenhower "always speaks for himself very frankly." He declined, however, to guess whether Eisenhower might issue a new statement on his candidacy as a result of his recent intestinal operation.

Hall said Eisenhower had approve before he was stricken with ileitis a lineup of convention officials including Langlie as keynoter, Sen. William F. Knowland of California as temporary chairman and Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts as permanent presiding officer. These selections were approved today by the party's 46-member Arrangements Committee.

When Martin bangs the gavel at the Aug. 20 San Francisco convetion it will be the fifth consecutive time he has acted in that capacity.

2 SENATE CANDIDATES

Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut was selected as chairman of the platform-drafting Resolutions Committee.

Bush, like Langlie, is a candidate for the Senate. Both the Washington governor and the Connecticut senator have been listed as strong supporters of Eisenhower.

Hall told newsmen he has no doubt the ticket nominated at San

New Toll Bridge To Jekyll Opens; July Dedication

BRUNSWICK, June 22 (AP)—A Brunswick man, R. W. Ralston, 67, paid the first toll across the 10-million-dollar Sidney Lanier Bridge Friday.

The bridge was opened to traffic at 3 p.m., and some 50 cars crossed in the first half-hour.

A formal dedication ceremony will be held on July 18 for the bridge, located on U.S. Highway 17 at Brunswick. The bridge and its limited access approaches reduce distance on the main north-south highway by two miles and cuts an estimated 20 minutes' driving time off the old route by by-passing Brunswick traffic.

PRISON CAMP BURNS—A $50,000 fire Friday destroyed the old Clayton County public works camp just north of Jonesboro. Battling the blaze were firemen from Jonesboro, the Atlanta Ordnance Depot, Forest Park and Hapeville, who were hampered by the insufficient supply of water. The 49 prisoners will be housed in the county jail and a former garage until the new prison camp, now under construction, is completed in August. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Payroll Count Limits State Aid for Teachers

Georgia schools no longer will receive funds for Minimum Foundation-alloted teachers unless the teachers are actually on the payroll.

Gov. Griffin Friday rescinded a three-year-old order which allowed schools to collect the money even though the teachers were not actually hired.

He also revoked an order that had limited the number of school textbooks on the state-approved list to five in each subject.

PAY FOR TEACHER QUOTA

The rescinded order on distribution of state funds was issued by former Gov. Herman Talmadge on March 4, 1953. Griffin ordered the textbook rule on April 4, 1955.

Under Talmadge's order, school systems were allowed to receive teacher pay they were due under Minimum Foundation formulas even if they did not actually hire the teachers.

Many school systems have done away with visiting teachers, instructing supervisors and other teaching personnel under the rule, School Supt. M. D. Collins said Friday.

Schools also were allowed to receive the annual allotment of $300 per teacher for current operating expenses and $200 per teacher for capital outlay, even though the teachers were not actually hired.

All funds saved by a system's failing to hire an allotted teacher were supposed to have gone to raising salaries of the remaining teachers, Dr. Collins explained. It has been difficult to check whether provisions of the order have been complied with, he said.

RESULT IN HARDSHIP

The order was rescinded at the request of State Board of Education representatives and officials of the State Department of Education. Those requesting the textebook change included Harold E. McNabb, president of the Georgia Education Assn.; Frank Hughes, GEA executive secretary, and William Henry Shaw, superintendent of education for the Muscogee County Schools.

Griffin said the school people protested that the order, designed as an economy move, would work a hardship on the schools and not actually result in savings.

If a school system were using a textbook no longer on the approved list, it would either have to pay for its own replacements or order a complete set of new books, the governor said.

In a letter to Griffin, McNabb pointed out that publishers charge the same price for books on the restricted and non-restricted lists.

Hughes wrote that "an unrestricted list would give teachers the widest freedom of choice within the per capita pupil allotment for textbooks. This is in keeping with the best educational practices throughout the nation."

Indicted Here In Slaying of In-Law, Wife

The operator of a chain of Atlanta parking lots was charged with murder in separate indictments Friday by the Fulton grand jury in connection with the slayings Monday night of his wife and mother-in-law.

One indictment charged James Charles Grey, 45, of 710 Peachtree St., NE, Apt. 435, with the fatal shooting of his wife, Mrs. Becky Elise Grey, 29. The other charged him with fatally shooting Mrs. Lillie Barnes, 65, of Loganville.

Police quoted Grey as stating he shot his wife and mother-in-law at the apartment after wresting a .38 caliber pistol from the hands of Mrs. Barnes. He told them he laid the pistol on a living room table under his coat and left the room.

When he returned, he said, his mother-in-law had the pistol in her hands and threatened to "blow my brains out." Officers said he told them he "slapped her over the sofa and started shooting." After that happened, he said, he did not remember anything, according to officers.

Lincoln Death Bullet Will Go on Display

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—The pellet of lead which took Abraham Lincoln's life will go on public exhibit at the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology.

It was fired from a Derringer by John Wilkes Booth in Ford's Theater April 14, 1865. It will form part of an exhibit of items connected with the assassination.

Thompson Won't Tell At 11th Hr.

M. E. Thompson was in Atlanta Friday "conducting a little experiment"—and obviously enjoying the game immensely.

On the eve of the deadline for qualifying for the Sept. 12 Senate race, the former governor made it clear that any speculation about his candidacy would be just speculation.

"The truth is my wife doesn't even know. Neither does my son," Thompson said. M. E. Thompson Jr. accompanied his father to Atlanta.

"I haven't phoned anyone or written anyone since I arrived," Thompson asserted. He described his "experiment" as "interesting." "I've received more than 25 calls since I arrived," he said, "more than half of them from the other side."

Thompson was expected to announce his intentions Friday. He said, though, that he had told reporters he would "come to Atlanta Friday and make my announcement while I was here. I will be here Saturday, too," he grinned, "at least through noon."

He asserted, however, that his own mind already has been made up.

"What kind of fool do people take me for?" Thompson asked enigmatically. "They think I'm approaching imminent disaster."

Dad, Son Killed and 3 Hurt In Flaming Georgia Smashup

WILDWOOD, June 22 (AP)—A father and his son died in the flaming wreckage of their car Friday and three others were injured in a spectacular U.S. Highway 11 traffic accident near here.

The almost head-on collision, about 10 miles southwest of Chattanooga, Tenn., involved two Texas-registered cars.

The dead were tentatively identified as Arthur Altman, 35, and his son, David, 9, both of Houston. They were reported en route from Margate City, N.J., to Houston, and were towing a two-wheel trailer.

Any possible aid for the Altmans was prevented by flames and explosions. The charred remains were not extricated until the smoldering wreckage was cooled by water from a fire engine more than an hour after the crash.

It was first believed three or four persons were in the flaming auto.

Occupants of the second car were identified as H. E. Kramer, 38, of Beaumount, Texas; his wife, Mrs. Viola Kramer, 35, and their son, Mark Joseph, 3. Each suffered a fracture of the left leg and other less serious injuries.

The Altman car caught fire upon impact and burned fiercely in the middle of the heavily traveled highway. The fire blocked traffic for more than a mile on either side of the accident.

Senators Ask Wilson's Firing for 'Phony' Cry; He Hints Cut in Army

Considering A Reduction For Economy

QUANTICO, Va., June 22 (UP)—Defense Secretary, Charles E. Wilson said today he is considering a cut in military manpower next year.

He said he believed the Army could be reduced and still keep its present 19 divisions.

Wilson also apparently dashed Air Force hopes of getting an increase in its authorized strength of 975,000 men. Lt. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr., chief of Air Force personnel, urged Congress recently to increase Air Force manpower. He said this was vital. But Wilson said he thought the air arm could operate its 137 wings with only 975,000 men.

DECISION BY FALL

Wilson, presiding over his annual conference of top military leaders at the Quantico Marine base, told a news conference "We are taking a look at the whole business" of military manpower and weapons.

He said decisions must be reached by next fall when the administration starts preparing the budget for the 1958 fiscal year which starts July 1, 1957.

Discussing operation of the Defense Department within "money limitations," Wilson said a new manpower cut is "one alternative" he and the Joint Chiefs of Staff are weighing. He said he would "rather not speculate" on how big the cut might be.

NO HINT OF SOVIET MATCH

There was no indication the proposed reduction has any connection with Russia's recently-announced decision to trim its armed forces by 1,200,000 men by next May. Any U.S. reduction would be far below 1,200,000.

At last count six weeks ago the U.S. armed forces totaled 2,835,-699 men, somewhat less than the authorized limit of 2,850,000. Russia, even after its proposed cut, would have 3 million under arms, plus another 6 million in its puppet states.

Wilson said it "could be" that the Army can take a manpower cut and still maintain its present 19 divisions by streamlining them. The Army now is streamlining its 102nd airborne division. It will wind up with 5,000 fewer men than other divisions.

Wilson said the Air Force already has "ample people" to do its job. The service now has 910,500 men, about 64,500 less than its authorized strength.

Pickpocket Had Best Pick the Right Court

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., June 22 (AP)—Judge Alfred Toscano of New Haven, Conn., would like to preside at the trail of a Miami Beach pickpocket—if the culprit is caught.

The judge, vacationing at Miami Beach, told police someone jostled him yesterday and took his wallet containing more than $200.

Methodist Pastorates Are Filled

By KAY McLEOD

Constitution Church Editor

ATHENS, June 22—The 90th annual North Georgia Methodist Conference closed here Friday with the reading of the pastoral appointments by Bishop Arthur J. Moore.

Major assignments filled the superintendencies of the Decatur-Oxford and LaGrange districts.

The Rev. J. Walter Chidsey fills the Decatur-Oxford post which has been vacant since the death of Dr. E. G. Mackay last February. The Rev. Mr. Chidsey comes from the First Church West Point.

The Rev. Jesse W. Veatch goes to the LaGrange district from the First Church, Decatur. He replaces the Rev. J. W. Segars, who becomes pastor of the First Church, Griffin.

In other major conference assignments, the Rev. Y. A. Oliver was named executive secretary of the Board of Education, replacing the Rev. A. L. Gilmore. The Rev. Mr. Oliver formerly served the First Church, Thomaston. The Rev. Mr. Gilmore goes to First Church, Cedartown.

GOP Support Is Lacking as Storm Grows

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—The biggest storm of his career blew up around Secretary of Defense Wilson today as senator after senator denounced him for calling congressional moves to boost Air Force funds "phony."

Democrats demanded his head. Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, top Republican on the Armed Services Committee, accused him of "an unwarranted slur on senators." No Republican arose to defend his remark.

Whether the episode would lead to a White House crackdown on Wilson—or even imperil his Cabinet post—was not immediately apparent.

CALLS REMARKS REVOLTING

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, called Wilson's remarks "revolting to all patriotic Americans."

At least three senators who joined in the angry talk accused the outspoken defense chief of again, as they put it, getting his foot in his mouth.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a former secretary of the Air Force and a possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination, told the Senate:

"The usefulness of this Cabinet member has come to an end."

"AVERY BUSY MAN"

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) observed that he had said much the same thing three years ago, and described Wilson this way:

"He is a very busy man—busy half the time putting his foot in his mouth, and busy the other half of the time trying to get it out."

It remained to be seen how President Eisenhower—who specializes in not getting people mad—would look upon Wilson's newly demonstrated penchant for riling a lot of people. There was no immediate comment from Walter Reed Hospital.

The big ruckus comes at a time when the administration is seeking to clear the decks for the election campaign. Democrats gave

East Point Woman Pastor First for Georgia Methodists

ATHENS, June 22 (AP)—Georgia Methodists, for the first time, Friday vested a woman with the full rights of the ministry.

She is Miss Ruth Rogers, 51, of East Point, supply pastor of the 61-member Hyatt Memorial Church and a high school mathematics teacher. She was ordained an elder at the north Georgia annual conference by Bishop Arthur J. Moore. As such she is empowered to administer Holy Communion, the rites of marriage and baptism.

She also may apply for conference membership but she said she had not decided whether to do so. As a full conference member, she explained she would be subject to assignment to a pastorate by the bishop. She said she felt she might be of greater service in her present situation.

The admission of women to the ministry was authorized at the last General Conference of the Church in Milwaukee. Ordained elders along with Miss Rogers were 19 men.

Ohioan Kills His Wife's 2 Sisters And Girl, Then Leaves Suicide Note

WARREN, Ohio, June 22 (UP). A "mad killer" shot to death three women, wounded a family friend and then abandoned his getaway car, leaving a suicide note.

Alfred Wilson, 37, a truck driver, was sought by a 50-man posse of deputies from two counties and state patrolmen, aided by bloodhounds and airplanes.

The search area circled his abandoned car, which contained a note to his wife, Juanita, 37.

"I wanted to get you, Juanita," he wrote. "I'm sorry for what I've done to you. Say good-bye to the kids. I hope to see you in the other world."

Trumbull County Sheriff Herbert Thomas, who termed Wilson a "mad killer with family troubles," discounted the note on the theory Wilson would not have left the car had he intended to kill himself.

Wilson was believed still armed with the Luger pistol with which he sent three to death.

Bloodhounds picked up a scent at the car, and trailed tracks in soft mud, where earlier a telephone crew had seen a man run across the road.

Wilson's victims were two sisters of his estranged wife and a 16-year-old girl, a stranger.

They were Mrs. Hazel Botts, 32, mother of three; Mrs. Geraldine Brown, 30, mother of two; and Nancy Worthington, 16, of Leavittsburgh, Ohio. Wounded in the arm by a bullet from Wilson's pistol was Emmitt Dennison, 42, of Warren, a friend of the Wilson family.

Wilson began his bloody rampage last night, as his estranged wife prepared to leave him to go to West Virginia. He drove to the Brown home in Leavittsburg, west of here. He shot Mrs. Brown in the head through a screen when she answered his ring. Coroner Michael Reisto said his gun "must have been just inches away" from her face.

Wilson fled the Brown home, driving toward Cortland, northeast of here. On the road he spotted Dennison in his car, forced it off the road and shot Dennison through the arm.

Wilson drove on to the Botts

Reds Rehearse Jets for Twining; May Disclose 2 to 7 New Types

MOSCOW, June 22 (AP) — The Soviet Union is expected to unveil at least two—and maybe as many as seven—new types of jet aircraft at Sunday's air force show which Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U.S. Air Force chief of staff, will attend.

Westerners scanning the skies over Moscow report glimpsing two new types already. What they are waiting to see is what will fill five conspicuous gaps in formations that have rehearsed so far.

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 22 (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U.S. Air Force chief of staff, flew in today for a brief visit at the U.S. Air Force headquarters in Europe. Gen. Twining and his party will continue their flight to Moscow tomorrow.

This capital has been reverberating for weeks from the boom of jets screaming through the sound barrier. The jets have been rehearsing over the Tushino base outside Moscow where the air show will be held.

Observers have sighted a new delta-wing fighter which they believe to be an experimental model not yet in production. No such fighter has been exhibited by the Russians so far and the current type is not considered a true delta-wing because it has a tail.

Two or three swept-wing twin-jet intercontinental bombers, an improvement over the IL28 seen last year, also have been seen.

Each rehearsal so far invariably has included five empty spaces in the formations, a strong suggestion something unusual is being withheld for a dramatic unveiling Sunday.

Observers also noted that planes crashing the sound barrier did so in dives and not in level flight, a possible indication the jets testing out in the Moscow area lack the necessary power for level flight faster than the speed of sound.

The U.S. Embassy released a 10-day Soviet itinerary for Twining which includes visits to hitherto top-secret Soviet air installations, plane factories and institutions.

Observers took this as an open Soviet bid for further and more extensive visits to the Soviet Union by top U.S. military and government officials in view of President Eisenhower's recent statement that such future visits will be predicated on how much Twining gets to see.

Steel Shutdown Due To Start Wednesday

Plants Gearing for Strike Expected at End of Week

NEW YORK, June 22 (UP)—United States Steel Corp. announced today that unless there is a break in the contract deadlock with the steelworkers union, steel mills will begin shutting down next Wednesday in anticipation of a strike by 650,000 workers at the end of the week.

Other companies were expected to follow the lead of Big Steel which during a break in the contract negotiations today accused the United Steel Workers union of hamstringing the talks.

The negotiators met for two hours today and then recessed until tomorrow. A union spokesman said there had been "no progress".

UNION SET FOR STRIKE

Current contracts expire at midnight June 30, and the union has sent instructions to its members to prepare for a strike.

A strike not only would cast a depression-like gloom on steel towns across the nation, but would affect other phases of economic life. Merchants reported that steelworker families already were slashing expenditures for luxuries.

At Gary, Ind., merchants declared a moratorium on credit buying. In New York, stock market caution reflected the darkening outlook for steel labor peace. Steel shares backed down. Bethlehem, up more than a point in early trading, lost all its gain. Armco and Youngstown Sheet and Tube fell about a point, and U.S. Steel was down a fraction.

SAYS PEACE NOT WANTED

The seriousness of the contract deadlock was emphasized in a statement by John A. Stephens, vice president and chief negotiator for U.S. Steel. He charged the union with refusing to bargain on a five-year no strike offer "because they do not want five years of labor peace in the steel industry."

He denied the union charge that the nation's major steel companies have entered into a "conspiracy" to force the union to accept their offer. He said the companies must cooperate with each other and stick together to protect themselves against "the well-known union 'whipsawing' tactics."

CHARGE OFFER SHAMEFUL

The companies said their offer includes a package increase of more than 65 cents an hour over the life of the contract, including a direct wage increase averaging 7.3 cents each year and 52 weeks of layoff pay.

The union has denounced the offer as "shameful" in a year of record prosperity.

Union and management forces accused each other of bringing on annual crises in the steel industry. Stephens, commenting on a union statement that the USW is not "strike-happy," said "It is the union that calls strikes, not the companies." He blamed the walkouts in 1946, 1949, 1952 and 1955 on the union and said "It is threatening to do the same thing again this year."

Russians To Let In Flying U.S. Couple

BERLIN, June 22 (AP)—Flying tourists William P. Lear and his wife got permission from the Russians today to make a trail-blazing flight in their private plane to Moscow.

Lear, widely known U.S. aviation equipment manufacturer, had his heart set on leaving tonight in time to see the big Soviet air show in Moscow Sunday, but had to postpone the takeoff at the last minute because of a brake failure. He definitely set departure for Tuesday.

He and his wife, Moya, daughter of Ole Olsen of the oldtime comedy team, will be the first to fly through the Iron Curtain to Moscow in a private plane.

Benson Hears Iowa Boos; Farmers Cheer Kefauver

By SETH S. KING

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

ELDORA, Iowa, June 22—Secretary Agriculture Benson heard today the strange sound of boos and catcalls from a farm audience in Republican Iowa.

Benson and Sen. Estes Kefauver discussed farm problems here before a crowd attending the Corn Belt Farm Family Field Day.

On the basis of reception and applause, Kefauver came off a clear winner.

A crowd of 5,000 persons heard Benson defend the Eisenhower administration's farm policies and to outline its accomplishments.

CHARGES LAW POORLY USED

When he had finished and gone, Kefauver took the platform to accuse Benson and the administration of deliberately refusing to take full advantage of the new farm bill passed recently by Congress.

Benson first got into trouble when he said the Eisenhower administration was determined to raise farm prices but "would offer no political nostrums or panaceas to accomplish this." This was received with a mixture of applause and boos.

Then Benson charged that "such farm experts as Truman, Kefauver, Stevenson and Harriman" were repeating, "with a curious mixture of concern and elation," the claim that farm prices were going down.

"While the truth is that prices have gone up steadily in recent weeks," he declared.

DROWNS OUT VOICE

A chorus of boos and catcalls broks out in the edge of the audience and then swelled until it drowned out Benson's next words.

He had to wait for the noise to subside before he said: "The upturn in the general level of farm prices during recent months flatly contradicts the gloomy forecasts of some politicians who have been saying American agriculture is about to collapse."

As he paused for a moment, a voice from the crowd shouted, "It already has."

Benson got a rough response again when he asserted that "beef cattle prices have strengthened about 10 per cent since the beginning of the year."

This was greeted by boos and cries of "No, no."

In contrast, Kefauver was interrupted with applause 14 times during his speech.

THE SENATOR'S WONDER

"I wonder," Kefauver then said, "if the Eisenhower cabinet is so single-heartedly dedicated to perpetuating the Eisenhower administration in power that they are willing to close their eyes to everything else but the necessity of maintaining the fiction that our nation is supposedly prosperous in order to achieve their political end."

The Eisenhower administration, he said, has made every effort to "weaken and restrict" the soil bank program set up by a Democratic-controlled Congress.

"At first they completely ruled out of eligibility all acres injured or stricken by drought, flood or insect plagues," he declared. "It was only as a result of congressional insistence that the administration followed the letter and intent of the law that this decision was reversed."

Nixon Proxy For Ike at Manila Fete

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—Vice President Nixon will represent President Eisenhower at the 10th anniversary celebration of the Philippines' Independence Day in Manila, July 4.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced today that Nixon will make the trip at Eisenhower's "urging" and in response to a personal invitation from President Ramon Magsaysay of the Philippines.

The celebration and the designation of Nixon to attend would serve to recall to the world that the United States carried out its pledge to make the Philippines independent.

Governed as a territorial possession of the United States after the Spanish-American War, the Phillipines received semi-independent status in 1935 with a promise of independence a decade later. The pledge was fulfilled within a year of the end of World War II—on July 4, 1946.

Iceland Vote To Decide Fate of U.S. Air Bases

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, June 22 (UP)—Four political parties today wound up a parliamentary election campaign that will decide whether the United States can continue to keep strategic air bases on this North Atlantic island.

Only one of the parties favors retention of the bases. The Communists and two other parties want the bases closed. The election Sunday will decide the issue.

The U.S. air base at Keflavik, 35 miles from here, is the focal issue. Its presence stirred up a political controversy that led to the resignation on March 27 of Prime Minister Olafur Thors' government.

Thors called Sunday's election to form a new government.

The four parties held final rallies today. Tomorrow, they will concentrate on getting the island's 93,000 voters to the polls.

Only if the Independence party, which controls the present interim government, wins will the U.S. forces have a good chance of staying in Iceland.

Opposing the bases are the leftist Progressives, Social Democrats and Communists.

The Progressives had formed a coalition government with the Independence party for the last six years. This spring they split with the Independents and joined the Social Democrats.

Some of the Social Democrats then split from their own party and formed a "labor alliance" with the Communists.

Jet Crash Fires English City Hall

IPSWICH, England, June 22 (UP)—A U.S. Thunderstreak jet fighter-bomber crashed into a field near Levington village today and set fire to the town hall. There were no casualties. The pilot parachuted safely 15 miles away.

Surprise French Tactics Rout Rebels in All Algeria

ALGIERS, June 22 (AP)—A French armored column and an infantry battalion today smashed a rebel hideout mountain base 20 miles southwest of Tlemcen. The French killed one rebel and captured 69.

The French units caught the rebels by surprise near the Beni-Baahet Dam, in an area near the Moroccan frontier.

NO RESISTANCE

The rebels were unable to offer much resistance, according to reports at headquarters. The French seized a large quantity of weapons.

Another detachment of French troops clashed with a rebel band near Dar el Mizan, in the Kabylie Mountains about 40 miles south of Tizi Ouzou and 60 miles southeast of Algiers. The French killed five rebels.

In the south, on the edge of the Sahara Desert, a French patrol caught a large rebel group in the Sahari Mountains southwest of Bou Saaba and north of Geulfa. The rebels fled, leaving six dead.

Meanwhile, the French announced that troops and police had smashed an important rebel network at Bougie in eastern Algeria.

About 8,000 persons were seized temporarily in the coastal town 140 miles east of here, and 800 were held for further questioning.

ARREST REBEL CHIEFS

An official said among those arrested were 28 known rebel leaders who had been sought for months, and 33 others who were charged with hiding arms and otherwise taking part in the 19-month rebellion. Strong detachments of troops joined police in surrounding the Arab quarter of Bougie last night and in carrying out the search today.

Officials said the 28 leaders were the mainspring of a whole series of attacks on French settlements and Arabs friendly to the French throughout the Kabylie Mountain area and Soummam Valley.

In Algiers, meanwhile, police said they had learned the identity of all the rebels who took part in Wednesday's commando raid attack on European civilians in the city in which four persons were killed and 13 others injured. The identifications apparently came from questioning three rebels arrested the last two days.

She Sets Fire Killing 3 Just For Thrills

PRINCETON, N. J., June 22 (UP)—A 29-year-old woman who said "I wanted excitement" today set fire to a nursing home, killing three women patients in a pyre hich flared "like an ammunition dump" police said.

They said Mildred Waters, of Rocky Hull, admitted setting fire to tissue and then to the curtains in the 11-room cottage at the nursing home maintained by the Christian Science Church.

Two women burned to death and a third suffocated in the fire which caused an estimated $100,000 damage. Seven others living in the cottage escaped unharmed, but an eighth, Mrs. Cora Reed, 71, of New York City, was admitted to Princeton Hospital suffering from smoke poisoning.

James B. Harrison, superintendent of the institution, said the suspect had been under voluntary treatment at the nursing home.

The dead were:

Mrs. Ellen Huggett, 81, New Orleans, La.; Miss Eleanor Sampson, 49, Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Bessie Meyer, 77, Philadelphia.

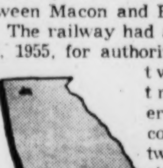
Southern Renews Plea To Cut 2 State Trains

The Southern Railway Friday applied to the Georgia Public Service Commission for reconsideration of its decision against discontinuance of trains 26 and 27 between Macon and Brunswick.



The railway had asked on Sept. 8, 1955, for authority to drop the two passenger trains, Southern's only direct connections between the two cities.

On May 8, the commission denied the application and suggested the railroads do something to make its service more attractive.

In asking for reconsideration, Southern said the PSC order "is arbitrary, unreasonable and unjust."

It maintained that the order would cause it to "dissipate approximately $100,000 annually to provide the service for which the record shows there is no public need."

Firemen To Vote on Pension Bid

Members of the Georgia State Fire Fighters Assn. (AFL-CIO) will vote Saturday on a resolution to press for an occupational hazard clause in their pension regulations.

That was one of two resolutions offered delegates as they opened their 15th annual convention here Friday.

Also entered was a resolution seeking the establishment of a permanent fire college to be operated in conjunction with the State University System.

Supporters of the occupational hazard resolution said they are seeking a change in the firemen's state pension rules to include all firemen who are incapacitated because of fumes, chemicals and smoke encountered while fighting fires.

The fire college resolution would urge the state to set up a permanent school to train firemen professionally. These firemen in turn would train others at their local stations, J. E. Turner, a state vice president from East Point, said.

Also on Saturday's agenda are the election of new officers and a talk by Herbert E. Blackmon of Charlotte, 12th district vice president of the International Assn. of Fire Fighters.

Members of Atlanta local, No. 134, will be hosts to the delegates and members of the auxiliary, who are holding their eighth annual convention also, at a barbecue at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Atlanta Waterworks grill.

Postmasters Are Confirmed

The U.S. Senate Thursday confirmed President Eisenhower's nomoination of Carlos M. Sisson to the Hapeville postmastership. Other Georgia postmastership nominations confirmed were those of William C. Chambers Jr., Fort Gaines, and Samuel H. Henderson, Gray.

Sisson, a veteran of 21 years with the Hapeville office, was nominated to the postmastership on April 10. He had been acting postmaster since March 6, 1955.

Intrastate Bus Fares Are Raised

Intrastate bus lines fares were raised to 2½ cents a mile Friday by the Georgia Public Service Commission.

The increase, which will go into effect July 10, represents a quarter of a cent hike for eight bus lines.

Commuter fares will not be changed. The Commission rejected a specific request by Southeastern Greyhound lines to raise commuter rates between Marietta and Atlanta.

Raises were granted because of a decline in bus riders and an increase in operating costs, said David O. Benson, director of the transportation rates division of the GPSC.

A total of 26,500,000 fares were sold in Georgia last year, Benson said. This was 2,500,000 fewer than in 1954, he added.

Interstate bus fares were raised to 2.65 cents per mile in May.

The fares approved Friday compare with 2.3 cents in Alabama, 2.5 in Florida and 2.7 in North and South Carolina.

The lines requesting increases were: Atlantic Stages Inc., Continental Crescent Lines Inc., Modern Coach Lines Inc., Southeastern Stages Inc., Southeastern Greyhound Corp., Service Coach Lines Inc., Southern Stages Inc. and Tennessee Coach Co.

'Fort' Gordon Still 'Camp' to Scouts

Constitution State News Service

FORT GORDON, June 22—It may be "Fort" Gordon now but at least a portion of it will remain "camp" for the last two weeks of June. Fort Gordon's own Boy Scout Troop 99 has established Camp Cherokee at Leitner Lake on the post.

Thirty-five scouts and leaders are holding their annual summer camp on the shores and islands of this picturesque lake in the far backwoods of the reservation.

Construction Permits Lag $10,000,000

Value of construction authorized thus far this year in Atlanta trails the value of permits issued for the same period last year by nearly $10,000,000, Building Inspector William R. Wofford said Friday.

Despite the lag, however, the office issued permits Friday for nearly $800,000 worth of construction, including a $678,225 Naval and Marine Reserve Training Center at 867 Plum St., NW. Also issued was a permit for a $20,150 addition to Delta Air Lines shop building at the Atlanta airport.

Value of permits issued during the first six months of 1956 totaled $40,458,039, compared with $30,876,783 thus far this year. This is a deficit of $9,671,256 thus far for 1956.

In January, 1955, permit values soared to more than $11,000,000, compared with only $4,000,000 in permits for January this year.

Values for June, 1955, were $6,458,461, as against $5,140,308 at the close of business Friday.

Elvis Can't Sing Without Moving Pelvis, He Says

Elvis Presley said here Friday that he "can't stand still and sing the songs" he has to sing.

The 21-year-old rock 'n roll sensation, now appearing at the Paramount Theater made that statement when he was asked how he planned to "clean up" his act for an appearance on Steve Allen's NBC-TV show July 1.

Allen and NBC officials had said in wire stories that Presley would be compelled to omit the sensual dances or movements he executes while he sings. Protests which followed Presley's recent appearance on the Milton Berle show precipitated this action, NBC officials said.

The singer said the movements he makes "are not vulgar and are not different from the actions made by gospel quartets at all night sings."

It was these movements which sent audiences of teen age girls into wild demonstrations Friday. Presley sang "Heartbreak Hotel," "Oh, Baby," "I Was the One," "I Need You, I Want You" and some other tunes which were less familiar. —PAUL JONES

Boys State Votes Bill On Uniforms

By DON BAIRD

A bill which would seek punishment for any boy caught not wearing his cap and T-shirt was signed into law Friday by Gov. William (Snooks) Saye (Federalist—Boys State).

The bill, originated in the House, would make wearing of the official Georgia Boys State uniform mandatory, offering a penalty to any violators.

The House and Senate went into its hour-long session Friday morning after Saye took his oath of office as 1956 governor of the mythical state from Chief Justice W. H. Duckworth of the Georgia Supreme Court.

In his inaugural speech, the 17-year-old Madison youth stressed a need for more recreational facilities in the state.

Gov. Griffin later outlined to delegates to the American Legion-sponsored event the state's fiscal condition and discussed the 1956-57 budget.

The first graduation exercises in Boys State history will be held Saturday morning. At that time 25 boys will be graduated with honors, one selected as the "most outstanding athlete" and two designated as delegates to Boys Nation.

33 File To Seek 21 Fulton Offices, Assembly Seats

Thirty-three candidates had qualified Friday to seek nomination to 21 Fulton County offices at stake in the Sept. 12 Democratic primary, according to G. Neill Leach, secretary of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

This number includes three candidates for Sen. G. Everett Millican's seat which comes under jurisdiction of a special senatorial committee. The number also includes Rep. Hoke Smith who has qualified to seek Millican's post. He previously had qualified to succeed himself in the House and has not yet withdrawn.

Leach said another half-dozen candidates are expected to qualify Saturday morning before the noon entry deadline.

Will General Motors Take Wilson Back?

"Bird Dog" Charlie Wilson will have to do some more explaining about his confusing press conference at Quantico. It left even more questions unanswered than have many of his past performances.

Since when, for instance, did it become "phony" for Congress to be concerned about national defense? He needs to be reminded that as an agent of the executive department he is responsible only for carrying out the will of the nation and this will is expressed in legislative acts of Congress.

As for the confusion about B52 bomber production, it must be remembered that Wilson's announced decision to step up production occurred only after Congress and public opinion forced him to do so.

The secretary should explain, too, why it is that the general whose primary job is to prevent destruction of this nation doesn't know "what our plans are." Then, pray tell, who does? The country knows Gen. Curtis LeMay as a dedicated individual who is thoroughly familiar with the minimum requirements for a retaliatory force to carry the attack to the enemy should war occur. He is familiar also with the type of force needed to deter a sudden attack.

It was through this Senate subcommittee that Gen. LeMay's appraisal was made known. Surely the country appreciates his frankness and is grateful to the committee for bringing out the facts. The facts do not support the cheery optimism of the administration and Wilson—quite the contrary.

The secretary revealed who is playing politics—and dangerous politics—when he said that the people want to have a strong defense but that when it comes to paying taxes they take a different look at the program. Those associates of Wilson who would balance the budget at the expense of the military speak only for themselves and votes will matter naught if there is an atomic attack.

The country is glad that Congress is taking an interest in Wilson's stewardship of the U.S. Defense Department. That seems to be about the only way through which we can keep informed of our own as well as the Russians' military readiness. Economy is a splendid objective but there are other ways to economize except at the expense of national security.

Led by a Republican, Sen. Bridges, of New Hampshire, the senators are hopping mad, reading his remarks with "amazement and shock." His "phonies" included both parties. The "politics" are his own.

With auto sales lagging as they are, General Motors needs "Bird Dog" Charlie more than does the country. He did have some success selling cars.

Lockheed Atom Project Has Added Significance

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has announced that it will begin transferring its nuclear aircraft program from California to Georgia Monday. The program will be carried out at Marietta and at the huge development slated for Dawsonville.

Simultaneously with this announcement came one from Moscow. The newspaper Red Star predicted that the Soviet Union soon would have its first atomic aircraft. While it would be foolhardy to guess what "soon" means, our experience in the past would indicate that it will be "sooner" than we think.

It is necessary only to remember that our best "experts" said that it would take 10 years for the Russians to make an atom bomb. They accomplished it in three. Our top planners saw the United States ahead of the Soviet Union in jet air power for at least a decade or more. Today whatever superiority we may have had is disappearing rapidly.

The question now is will the Reds be able to build atomic-powered aircraft while ours are still in the planning stage? This is intended as no reflection on Lockheed because that splendid concern works on a government timetable.

Georgia apparently will play an important role in this grim race at Marietta and Dawsonville. Lockheed will do its part of the job within the limitations of time and scientific progress.

Grain Elevators Mean Profits for Communities

The Atlanta Constitution has watched with interest and cited with satisfaction as grain elevators have risen in Georgia alongside cotton gins and peanut mills.

The elevators speak of a diversified farm program.

Recently the manager of one of those new grain-handling facilities spoke out in a gratifying report. He is W. W. Gaston, of the Cotton Producers Assn. elevator at Waynesboro, Burke County.

Before a civic club in his hometown, Gaston said that six years ago the elevator at Waynesboro was the largest and most modern between Norfolk and Mobile. Between those two cities today there are several the same size, he admitted. But he said there are none more modern.

He went on to say the first year the Waynesboro elevator was in operation it handled 400,000 bushels of grain. Last year the total was two million bushels. This year it is expected to rise to three million.

Not only is the grain elevator a boon to farmers, it is also an industry spending $70,000 annually in the community in payrolls and $95,000 for supplies, services and taxes.

The Waynesboro operation is one of several in the state.

Don't overlook these elevators in making inventory of our state's assets. They encourage the farmer to greater diversification; they add to his cash income.

Directly or indirectly, they mean profit for everyone in a community.

Junior League Sets A Very Fine Example

The Atlanta Junior League has donated $1,500 to Grady Hospital to help equip a ward for Negro children in the hospital's new building.

This check is one of the league's many contributions to Atlanta's welfare, both in funds raised by league projects and in time spent by its members in volunteer work. Helping staff the hospital is just one of the many fine jobs done by this energetic and civic-minded group of young women.

Grady is Atlanta's answer to the needs of its indigent and ill. Supported by the taxpayers of Fulton and DeKalb counties, the hospital does a splendid job within the limits of its budget.

Action such as that of the Junior League supplements Grady's ordinary resources and makes the lot of its staff and patients just that much better. We hope the league's example will be followed by other groups with a sincere interest in the welfare of the community.

The Philippines Prove Our Hands Are Clean

President Eisenhower has named Vice President Nixon to represent him at Philippine Independence Day celebrations in Manila on July 4.

The move is an excellent one for two reasons. No matter what many Americans think of the vice president, he has proved himself a good salesman overseas, particularly in the East.

It also spotlights the United States position in regards to colonies. Regardless of our backing of the colonial misfortunes of some of our allies for military reasons, our hands are clean in this respect.

The Philippines became an American possession along with Puerto Rico at the end of the Spanish-American War. After a long period of political and economic adolescence, the islands were granted their independence 10 years ago. There was no struggle to keep them, no effort to preserve their dependent status for the aggrandizement of the United States.

Alaska and Hawaii, other overseas possessions, are well on their way to statehood. As we see it, Puerto Rico enjoys all the privileges of a most favored commonwealth without some of the tax disadvantages that are the price of full partnership in the union.

Our domestic and foreign policies often confuse the world, particularly when they are in conflict as they have been recently. On the matter of overseas possessions, though, our policy and tradition are clear and commendable.

Employable Ex-Royalty Is More Rare Than Not

The value of vocational training is well illustrated by the experience of ex-King Michael of Rumania. Not one to surround himself with a court of moldy exiles on a Riviera beach, Michael is supporting himself and family as head of an advanced flight instrument school in Switzerland.

Michael was born to the somewhat ragged purple of the tarnished court of Rumania. Between palace revolutions, his father, King Carol's girl friends, the Nazis and the Communists, he apparently has had enough of the life of a Balkan prince.

Mechanically minded, the ex-king trained in an American aircraft plant for his present job and seemed much happier around grease monkeys than in the old family palace. Married to a princess of the House of Bourbon-Parma, who has no throne, either, he obviously is a young man who adjusted himself to the world.

Nothing like having two strings to your bow, be you prince or commoner.

State Democratic Chairman Bell Declares He's Opposed to Any Third Party Movement

Atlanta—Your editorial charging fears of a party bolt out of Gov. Timmerman's invitation presupposes a state of mind which absolutely does not exist. Obviously, you have not read the South Carolina governor's letter. Neither, it appears, have you read my reply to him.

You and I both know that the U. S. Supreme Court, aided and abetted by a small group of radicals and left-wingers are bent on destroying constitutional government in this country and reducing the states to nothingness.

Georgia, the most loyal Democratic state, is against any "walkout," "third party," or "bolt."

But we do insist upon our rights as delegates representing Georgia Democrats to work in the convention for the Georgia viewpoint which we are convinced is right and represents the traditional American system of government and all that it embraces.

We cannot refuse to meet with any responsible leaders of other states, no matter from what section they hail, who are interested genuinely in the reaffirmation of the reserved rights of the states and who wish to work to strengthen our nation.

You can be sure that those who are fighting to destroy state sovereignty are meeting night and day to accomplish this purpose. It is therefore imperative that we who believe in state sovereignty utilize to the fullest extent all of the ingenuity and courage available to us.

As far as I am concerned, Georgia is going to work at every turn in pre-convention meetings, in caucuses and on the convention floor for those sacred principles of government espoused by the founding fathers under which America became the greatest nation on earth.

We will do all of this within the framework of the party organization.

It is understandable how the Americans for Democratic Action or some other similar organization would deny Georgia Democrats the right to prosecute the ideals in which they believe but it is dismaying when a Southern newspaper in effect takes the same position.

JOHN SAMMONS BELL
State Democratic Chairman.

Editor's Note: As did Sen. George, Sen. Kerr and a host of other Southerners, we did read Gov. Timmerman's letter and reached the same conclusions—conclusions contrary to those of Mr. Bell. Georgia Democrats should "work at the convention" in every practical way "to uphold their viewpoint." But to go to the convention armed with what amounts to an ultimatum is to invite the very ends we seek to circumvent.

Driver Thinks Trucks Don't Damage Roads

Lithia Springs — The letter blaming damaged roads on heavy trucks is hard to believe.

The truck driver is as fine a man as you will find in any business. He is a safe driver because he has some hard tests to pass.

I was in charge of a motor pool in service and I had all kinds of trucks, tanks and carriers. I built many roads for the Army and it was not our heavy equipment that damaged the roads.

We made our roads with heavy trucks. Yes, I own a car and drive a truck for the largest truck line in the United States. I am not a stranger in Atlanta and I wish I could write more about trucks.

Has Ike Heard Of This Course?

Jim Chism Jr., who has taken up on "The Chism Trail" in the Pelham Journal where his daddy left off, has learned from a traveling man that Pelham has the best nine-hole golf course in the world. Jim says, "That being the case it wouldn't surprise me in the least to see our city playing host to the President of the United States just as soon as he recovers from his recent flare-up and reads this column."

Speaking of Eisenhower and golf in Georgia, the stories keep coming out of Thomasville in regard to the President's game on the Glen Arven course.

The latest is about the caddy who watched Ike slice and said, "Mister, you sure goofed on that one."

The President hooked on the next try and the caddy said, "You goofed on that one, too."

A fellow caddy called the club carrier aside and said, "Boy, you may not know it, but you is caddying for the President of the United States."

On the next attempt the President hit one down the fairway.

Whereupon the caddy said, "Mister Lincoln, you sho' is improvin'."

'Collaborator With Sentiment, Foe of Invention; That's June'

What Paris is to the cities of the world, June is to the months of the year. She may not be overrated. It is difficult to overrate either a day in Paris or in June. But June is as overwritten as Paris.

June has been rhymed with everything from tune to moon and back again—sometimes even with a third rhyme like "soon" thrown in if a writer happened to be particularly imaginative. She is the foe of thoughtful invention, a collaborator with sentimentality, inspirer of the mawkish.

June is an insufferably pretty little girl in a pink dress and pale-blue hair ribbons. She is a stock company ingenue who flutters long lashes at a sawdust hero with wavy locks and a high starched collar. She is an overflounced strawberry girl singing her wares outside your window when you have a day's work to get on with.

You wish she would go away and come again another day. She will. That's June—very much of a good thing almost any time. Almost too much of a good thing—except when the weather turns "unusual" or the calendar turns over another leaf and it's July.

Then you wish you had given June's smiles their due. But of course you did. You drank them in with lemonade on a porch chair. You courted them on late afternoon strolls in the park. You inscribed them on smooth sheets of water with a canoe paddle.

It was only when you tried to put them on businesslike paper that they provoked rather than evoked. As the poet might have put it, what is so rare as anything new to say about June?

Grandpa's Oxen Did Much Better

TATE MOUNTAIN—I don't know when I will learn to keep my big mouth shut. The other day I wrote a piece for the paper announcing that the rains had gone forever from the mountains and that fair skies had come to hover here throughout the summer. I drove two miles down to the highway to put this brash opus in the mailbox and darn near didn't get back to the house.

For just as I turned from the mailbox the biggest, blackest cloud I ever saw came rolling and tumbling over the high ridge to the east, carrying lightning and thunder at its heart.

It got directly over me and stopped. Then it burst. It didn't bother with raindrops. It just poured great torrents down as if a giant tub had been inverted in the sky. It was like driving suddenly beneath a waterfall, like plunging all at once under the great cascade at Niagara.

First the lake disappeared, then the roadside trees, then the road itself. It is an old mountain road to begin with, a narrow track worn deep into the slopes where ox teams used to pull great covered wagons loaded with apples and chinquapins and coon hides and corn whisky.

Long before I was born it was worn down to the hardpan clay, to the rock ledges that are the very rib bones of the mountains and it hasn't been improved any since.

But I had driven it so much I figured I could drive it blind. And I did for about half a mile. Then I topped a little rise and started down the steep slope on the other side and all of a sudden I wasn't driving. I was just sitting there stomping the brake and twirling the wheel, but the car was rolling and sliding free and it kept on, going its own way until there was a sudden crunching, scrunching sound from the starboard side and there it sat, deep down in the ditch, with the water pouring in over the floorboards.

So I cut the engine, climb out on the high side and step ankle-deep into the clay. And when I pick up my right foot there is no shoe on it. And when I pick up my left foot, there is no shoe on it either.

So I set out plodding toward home in my sock feet, leaving car and shoes together stuck there in the mud.

And the big cloud moves off over the hills, mumbling and chuckling to itself while I trudge along, sliding and stumbling and mumbling but not chuckling.

I have now quit feeling sorry for the old men with the whiskers who used to drive their wagons over these mountain roads in the cold and the snow and the rain. If one of them were to come along right now with a good team of oxen bowed to the yoke he'd have a hard time getting past me without a trade.

For I never heard of two oxen getting stuck. It takes 200 horses hitched to a ton of steel and glass and chromium to do that.

Life's Mirages Lead Many Into Oblivion

Napoleon and his men were crossing a desert. The sun beat down on those tired soldiers until they developed a burning thirst. Just ahead they saw a beautiful lake, green grass and palm trees which provided cool shade. The men shouted, broke ranks and ran for the water. But as they ran, the lake ran and they could never catch it. It was a mirage. It appeared to be but it wasn't.

In the heart of man is a thirst for life—a life that means happiness and success.

Jesus said, "Narrow is the way which leadeth unto life" (Matt. 7:14) but we allow ourselves to be fooled into thinking Jesus was wrong. Evil often promises us more pleasure than does the good. St. Paul tells us, "Satan fashioneth himself into an angel of light" (II Corinthians 11:14).

He surely does! But no matter how we run after life in those things that are wrong we never catch it. The life we see in wrong is but a mirage. It never satisfies our thirst.

In insisting "narrow is the way," Jesus is forbidding us many things but why does He forbid us anything?

If something is wrong for us to do, it is wrong for one of three reasons: (1) Our doing it may do harm to some other person. Paul said, "If meat makes my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh." (I Corinthians 8:13). We are "our brother's keeper" and there are some things we must deny ourselves on that account.

(2) Some things are wrong because they degrade our souls. Profanity, for example.

(3) But most things that are wrong are wrong because they knock us out of something better.

The other afternoon I was in my study preparing my sermon for the following Sunday night. The phone rang. It was a friend inviting me to go play golf. It was a beautiful day. I needed the exercise. I would have enjoyed the game. For me to have gone that day would have been very wrong. It would have meant trying to preach without adequate preparation.

A mother tells a child to turn off the television. Not because the program is bad for the child. It may be a good program. But if the child needs to study its lessons or eat its dinner and go to bed for its proper amount of sleep, then for it to continue looking at the program becomes wrong.

"Narrow is the way," said Christ.

The Christian denies himself many things simply because he has more important things to do. A Christian is not so much concerned with what is wrong as he is with what is right and as he gives himself to the right, he has no time or desire for the wrong.

A person asked me, "Is it wrong to go to a picture show on Sunday night?"

My answer is, "It is right that you go to church on Sunday night. Do what is right and you will have no need to ask the question."

Efforts To Stifle Press Strike At People's Right To Know

The Georgia Press Assn. has condemned in no uncertain terms the vindicative efforts to muzzle newspapers in this state. The association's Freedom of Information Committee made the following statement at the Savannah meeting last week:

"It is disturbing to members of your committee as it should be not only to all newspaper people but to all citizens of this state to have to report that at the state government level this has been a year which has seen deliberate, vindictive and dangerous efforts to silence newspapers by censorship regulations and law."

For a number of years now almost every session of the General Assembly has been marked by some movement to curb the freedom of information.

Many of these attempts have been defeated, but last session, under the sponsorship of Denmark Groover of Bibb County, floor leader for the Griffin administration, a bill was passed providing that any newspaper corporation may be sued for libel in any county in which it has a circulation of 50 subscribers.

The measure, obviously punitive in nature, appears to be directed at newspapers which opposed administration policies.

Georgia newspapers have a fine record over the years for respecting the rights of individuals while crusading vigorously against corruption in government. Libel laws have been adequate to safeguard individuals who might be damaged.

It is difficult to express in a few words just how the true newspaperman feels about freedom of information.

He feels that secrecy in any phase of government is one of the gravest threats to our way of life. So long as a reporter has access to government deliberations the public has a safeguard.

It has been pointed out time and again and the point merits repetition—freedom of the press is for all people. It represents the right of everyone to know.

The few newspapers which have been careless or reckless with facts usually are curbed by the most powerful force of all—public scorn and lack of confidence.

Excluding political organs edited by politicians we know of no newspapers in Georgia that do not seek to present the news in a factual and impartial manner. Opinion of the paper goes on the editorial page and is thereby labeled opinion to be taken for what it is worth.

In reality, then, restrictive measures against the press are blows at the right of the people of Georgia to know. For that reason a free press remains one of the most effective safeguards of our precious liberties.

Old-Fashioned Brand

George Morris is a two-platoon football player who, strangely enough, is still in style. Hardly anything's changed for George since 1952, his all-America year at Georgia Tech. He was 215 pounds of linebacking greatness then, and he's 215 pounds of professional potential now. The weight's the same, the man's the same, the system's the same.

No, two platoon football hasn't returned to college fields. But George will step right into a familiar pattern with the pros after being sprung by Uncle Sam's team on Monday. The years of one-platoon football have been lost during three years of service, first at Fort Belvoir, then Korea and now Fort Benning.

Thomy

Even the colors will be similar for George. The white and gold of Georgia Tech are to be exchanged for the green and gold of San Francisco's 49ers. Green with pictures of presidents.

Not that George couldn't play one-platoon football. Nothing like that. They still say at Tech that Morris could have been an all-American offensive center except for the fact that Tech had an all-American offensive center, one Pete Brown. To state the whole case, the Jackets had six all-Americans that year in '52. In addition to Morris and Brown, tackle Hal Miller, halfbacks Leon Hardeman and Bobby Moorhead and end Buck Martin made one team or another.

"He might have been a linebacker," says one Tech follower, "but I'll tell you: No one could snap the ball to a kicker better than George Morris. He sent that ball back accurately and in a hurry. I think he was an all-American ballsnapper."

—Mr. Morris, Meet Mr. Morris

Another added:

"I'll tell you how good a player Morris is. He went to the All-Star game in Chicago. The All-Stars had a fellow by the name of Donn Moomaw from UCLA, a fellow who had made several of the all-America teams. He was supposed to be a great center. Well, Morris was named co-captain of the All-Stars and played practically the whole game."

Coach Bobby Dodd calls Morris "the greatest football player I've had or seen." That's quite a compliment at The Flats. Even Larry Morris, who teamed with George to give the Jackets perhaps the strongest middle defense of any college team, considers George "my idol."

"I played with him when I was a freshman and sophomore and he was a junior and senior," says Larry. "I really learned a lot." That's praise from another all-American.

FROM BOTH SIDES IT'S MORRIS

Ex-Mates George (L) and Larry Now Foes

The two may meet again. Larry got a call from Los Angeles Rams coach Sid Gillman this week, informing him that he will be used as an offensive fullback, a position he played successfully during stretches of the '55 season.

"Man, I'll hate to run into George," said Larry.

"I wouldn't care to run into Larry," echoed George from Fort Benning.

It would be quite a collision for Mr. Morris and Mr. Morris.

Larry remembers one of the most vicious tackles he saw as a collegian. It came in the Florida game.

"George picked up Papa Hall and carried him all the way to the track." And that should have made high jumper Hall feel right at home.

—The Family Circle Among Pros

"I'm looking forward to professional ball," said George. "I know it will be different, and tougher. I've been working out here at Fort Benning for several weeks. I think I'll be in good shape when I report."

Tech's professional family is a close unit. If you put them all on the same field you could shake hands with everyone without taking a step. The two Morrises are "gap" men. Ray Beck is a guard for the New York Giants, Hal Miller a tackle for the 49ers and Glenn Turner, just out of the Air Force, plans a shot at the Baltimore Colts' fullback position.

The services traded Morris for Pete Brown, who, otherwise, might have resumed an old alternating job with Morris in Frisco. Two former Jackets have retired from the professional ranks, end Clay Matthews of the 49ers and tackle Lum Snyder of the Philadelphia Eagles.

"I hope to travel to San Francisco with Miller," said Morris. "Maybe we can room together."

George, who was picked on the all-time Georgia Tech team, is not worried about life beyond the professional world.

"When I finish playing football, I am going to work for a body company in Fort Valley, where George Mathews is sales manager." Mathews is another former Tech footballer.

Systems may come and go, two-platoon and one-platoon football. And players may come and go with them.

But George Morris' brand of football is never out of style. It's an old-fashioned brand.

Rory Rolls To TKO In Eighth

Unbeaten Calhoun Nabs 22d Win

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Rory Calhoun, unbeaten 21-year-old White Plains, N. Y. middleweight, won his 22nd straight tonight, stopping Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles on a technical knockout in 2:28 of the eighth round at Madison Square Garden. Calhoun weighed 160½, Vaughn 159.

Calhoun, the 13-5 favorite, dropped his more experienced foe for a nine-count in the third round and floored him twice for nine-counts in the eighth. Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the contest after Calhoun drove home two hard rights to Vaughn's head after the two knockdowns in the eighth.

Although there were boos from the small crowd of about 2,500 that saw the nationally televised contest, there was no question at ringside that Referee Goldstein was right. Vaughn appeared shaky and in danger of being hurt if the bout had continued.

Referee Goldstein had Calhoun on top 4-1-2, Judge Harold Barnes scored it 5-2 and Judge Mike Davidowitch 4-3, all for Calhoun. The AP card was 5-2 in favor of Calhoun who now has stopped 12 of his 22 opponents in his all-winning career dating back to 1954.

SEC Group Places Florida on Probation

No Time Limit Specified In NCAA Follow-Up Action

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

The University of Florida was placed on probation Friday by the Southeastern Conference for violation of rules on aid to football players, an expected action in view of the fact the NCAA placed the school on probation on May 2 for two years for the same infraction. The SEC did not specify a time limit for the probationary period.

The SEC action was announced by Commissioner Bernie Moore following an executive committee meeting at the Georgian Terrace Hotel.

Actually the action brought little or no change in the athletic status of Florida, as the new SEC probation runs concurrently with that of the NCAA, of which all SEC schools are members.

Bob Woodruff, head football coach and Athletic Director who represented Florida at the meeting along with H. P. Constans, faculty chairman of athletics, issued a statement that said:

"The executive committee's statement speaks for itself. However, we do appreciate the fact that the action by the committee fully recognizes that Florida's error was an honest mistake and that our athletic officials and coaches did not knowingly violate any of the rules of the conference.

"We also appreciate the fact that Florida's probation by the conference will allow all of our intercollegiate teams to participate in all of the meets and tournaments and be eligible for the conference championship in all sports.

"We realize that we would necessarily be put on probation by the conference at this meeting but we hope in due course of time that all our penalties will be removed."

Woodruff declined to go any farther into the committee's action and to say if Florida plans to ask the NCAA to review its decision and to lift the two-year probation ahead of time.

During the probationary period the University will not be eligible to participate in post-season football games which, of course, means bowl games.

Commissioner Moore said the committee "has reviewed the evidence regarding the University of Florida allowing outside agencies to pay the travel expenses of athletes to and from their homes during the period of residence at the University of Florida."

He termed the payment of travel fees "a misunderstanding of conference interpretation of the rule on recruiting and the rules of student aid."

He added that while alumni and others are allowed to pay travel fare to prospective students, it is against SEC rules to pay fares for those students already in school.

Bernie Moore Bob Woodruff

Moore said that Florida might be able to show the NCAA that it had improved conditions and get a review, He added that when the executive committee called the misinterpretation of rules to the attention of Florida officials they immediately took corrective action.

Proposals to allow five instead of three freshmen football games and to make freshmen eligible to compete in spring sports also were heard by the committee and will be presented to the full conference meeting next fall.

Attending the meeting were Chancellor J. D. Williams of University of Mississippi, president of the SEC; Dean Alfred Scott of University of Georgia; Dean N. W. Dougherty, University of Tennessee; Ab Kirwan, University of Kentucky, and Moore.

Davis Snaps World Mark In Hurdles

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., June 22 (AP)—The Navy's Jack Davis broke the world record in the 110-meter high hurdles tonight and Texas' Bobby Morrow tied the world mark in the 100-meter dash in the National AAU Track and Field championships.

Davis ran the hurdles in 13.4 and Morrow the 100 in 10.2. Both marks were registered in qualifying heats for the finals which were to follow later this evening.

Morrow tied a mark set by Jesse Owens in 1936 and now shared by five others.

Two other meet records fell, in the 800-meter run and the hammer throw.

Defending champion Arnie Sowell of Pitt, running almost casually in a heat for tomorrow night's final, clicked off the distance in 1:49.8. It broke the meet mark set by his great predecessor at Pitt, Johnny Woodruff, whose time of 1:50.0 had held up since 1937.

Grabowski's 3-Hitter Kayoes Sick Chicks

Wilhelm's Blow Wins in 10th; Reynolds Belts 2, Riddle One

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

MEMPHIS, June 22—Dick Grabowski ended a personal five-game losing streak with a gilt-edged three-hitter Friday night as Atlanta extended Memphis' tailspin to eight via 4-3 decision in ten innings—the fourth win in a row for the Crackers.

Ironically, Grabowski's last triumph was ove rthe Chicks on May 22, when Jack Cassini's men were flying high in second place and Dick had a 6-1 record. After a month's famine, Grabowski now reads, 7-6.

Newcomer Bill Wilhelm delivered the decisive marker with a tenth-inning single, but a pair of homers by Bill Reynolds and one by Buck Riddle had kept the Crackers in contention.

Bob Boring, who replaced Sammy Meeks when the infielder was banished by Bill Lynch in an eighth-inning wrangle, scored the winning marker. Boring had outfooted an infield hit to Bruce Edwards, playing third in Memphis' makeshift lineup, and took second an a wild throw by Bruce.

Wilhelm then spanked his single into left, and Boring beat Gip Dickens' throw to stamp the loss on reliefer Tom Flanigan.

Outfielder Jack Daniels had a big hand in the Cracker victory, making sensational saving catches in the eighth and tenth.

Grabowski and Don Rudolph, one of three southpaws to beat Atlanta this season, treated the 1,786 customers to a scorching duel for the first eight innings.

Reynolds, a left-handed swinger, parked a Rudolph serve over the right-field fence in the second, but Bud Peterson drove a Grabowski gopher over the left-field barrier in the third.

In his next swing in the fourth, Reynolds unloaded for his No. 4 homer—a blast worth a $100 gift from a local laundry.

The Chicks bounced right back with a run in the fourth for a 2-2 knot. Ed White, who walked with one out, moved around on an infield out and a wild pitch and scored on Joe Kirrene's single.

Riddle, a strikeout victim in six of his last seven swings, then stroked his No. 11 homer over the left fence in the seventh. Again the Chicks came on to tie it with an unearned run in the eighth, sending the game into overtime.

Joe Dahlke, batting for Rudolph, walked, and Peterson lashed a single into left with one out. Lowe Wren followed with what looked like a sure double-play hopper to Bobby Willis, who flipped to Frank Di Prima for one putout.

But DiPrima pegged over first on the second lap, and Paul Stuffel, running for Dahlke streaked home. Wren raced to third on the error, but Meeks thought he had made the putout. Instead, Lynch putout Meeks during the ensuing argument, Boring made his first appearance since returning to the active list.

Wren expired on third, as Daniels made a tremendous diving grab of Dickens' drive in left-center.

The Crackers then promoted their unearned run in the tenth, and Daniels came to Grabowski's aid in the home half, by hauling in pinch-hitter Barry

Esposito Rap Ruins Yanks in 12th, 5-4

Chisox Rookie Leads Attack

CHICAGO, June 22 (AP)—Rookie Sammy Esposito singled with the bases loaded in the 12th inning after knocking in two runs with a double in the 11th inning to power the Chicago White Sox to a 5-4 victory tonight over the New York Yankees.

The triumph halted a seven-game Yankee winning streak and cut the league leaders' edge over the second-place White Sox to four games.

The crowd of 48,346 saw just about everything except a Mickey Mantle home run as the Sox rolled to their fifth straight victory and their eighth triumph in their last nine games.

Esposito's two-out double drove in a pair of runs in the bottom of the 11th inning after New York had taken a two-run edge on Joe Collins' bases-loaded single. Esposito's single decided the nearly 4-hour issue.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel decided to walk pinch batter Ron Northey and load the bases in order to get to Esposito. Sammy dumped his single into left field off Tom Morgan, fourth Yankee pitcher. The loss, however, was pinned to Rip Coleman, his second against two victories.

Sandy Consuegra was the winning pitcher making his record 1-1.

Held hitless for 7 1-3 innings, the Yankees scored their initial

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Bragan Gets Keystoner, Keeps on Looking

Compiled From Wire Reports

Bobby Bragan, frantically trying to stop his Pittsburgh Pirates' skid, got .347-hitting second baseman Forrest (Spook) Jacobs from Columbus of the International League Friday.

But Bragan, whose new second baseman came via Kansas City and the waiver rule, wasn't satisfied. He still wanted a left-handed pitcher and another infielder from the Pirates' Hollywood farm of the Pacific Coast League.

"I'm going to shake this team up," Bragan said. "If the players we have now can't help us, then we'll have to bring in others."

MORE BASEBALL: Columbus replaced Jacobs with second baseman Curt Roberts, whom they acquired from Pittsburgh. . . . The Chicago White Sox bought lefthander Paul LaPalme from Cincinnati, where he had a 2-4 mark. . . . Stan Musial squelched rumors he wants to quit baseball by telling Philadelphia writers he will "take care of my end of any job they give me in a baseball game."

TENNIS: The United States was left without a singles competitor in the London Grass Courts Meet when Britain's Angela Buxton whipped California's Darlene Hard, but Althea Gibson of Brooklyn gained both women's doubles and mixed doubles berths in the finals. Gibson skipped singles play. . . . Denmark's Kurt Neilsen, Wimbledon runner-up last year, will get the honor of opening the Wimbledon tourney on center court because champion Tony Trabert has turned pro.

GOLF: Doug Sanders of Miami and Cedartown, Ga., and Jack Penrose of Miami posted 67s to grab the first-round lead in the 33rd annual Ontario Open at Brantford.

MISCELLANY: The University of California Board of Regents decided to keep out of UCLA's football troubles but made it plain it is not in sympathy with the recent penalties assessed the Los Angeles campus for alleged football subsidization. . . . Navy won the 20th annual Collegiate Dinghy Championships by a one-point margin when a Brown crew was disqualified for fouling.

Braves Cop 7th Straight

BROOKLYN, June 22 (AP) — Big, unbeaten Brooks Lawrence allowed the Brooklyn Dodgers just two hits and only four base runners tonight to claim his ninth victory, 6-0, as the Cincinnati Redlegs took over second place in the ever-changing National League race on two home runs by Ed Bailey and one by Frank Robinson.

Lawrence, a 31-year-old righthander the St. Louis Cardinals sold short, gave up only a fifth-inning single to Carl Furillo and a two-out, ninth-inning double to Jackie Robinson while hurling his first complete game since May 29.

He faced only 30 men—just three over the minimum—in beating the world champions, who slipped from second to third in the race, for the third time this season and handing them only their second shutout of the year.

The 6-foot, 200-pounder was in trouble only once. That was in the fifth when he gave up his second and last walk to Roy Campanella after Furillo's single. A double-play preserved the shutout at that stage.

In the ninth, Lawrence got Duke Snider on fly to left to end the game.

Bailey and Robinson got the Redlegs, who had lost two straight, and Lawrence rolling with back-to-back home runs off Sal Maglie in the second. Then Bailey sent another one over the right-field screen in the fourth after Robinson had singled with two outs.

The thumping gave Bailey 10 home runs for the season and Robinson, a leading contender for rookie of the year honors, 14.

Giants Tumble, 3-1

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Ray Crone whipped the New York Giants, 3-1, tonight to give the league-leading Milwaukee Braves their seventh straight victory since Fred Haney took over as manager last Saturday.

Ray Crone

Robin Roberts

This also represented the longest winning streak in the National League this year and, combined with Cincinnati's victory over Brooklyn, moved the Braves a full game in front in the National League race.

Crone, who hung up his seventh triumph against three defeats, gave up seven hits and didn't permit the Giants to score until the ninth.

Bill Bruton and Eddie Mathews provided Crone with more runs than he needed. With one out in the third, Bruton hit his fifth home run of the year into upper right-field seats. Mathews followed with a blast, his 11th of the campaign, into the lower right-field stands.

Ruben Gomez, the Giants' starter, was the victim of both blows.

Robin Stops Cards

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP) — Del Ennis slammed his 12th homer of the season and Robin Roberts gave up only five hits as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 tonight.

It was Roberts' seventh victory against eight defeats. He has lost twice to the Cards.

The start of the game was delayed by rain for an hour and 20 minutes.

Ennis' homer sailed into the upper left-field stands with none on to provide the winning run for Roberts.

The first Phillies score came when Willie Jones doubled down the third-base line in the second. Roy Smalley got another two-bagger when the ball took a bad hop and went over Whitey Lockman's head, Jones scoring.

Tom Poholsky singled off Roberts' glove in the third and advanced on another single by Alvin Dark. Then Stan Musial doubled and Poholsky scored, but Dark was out trying for the plate.

Ennis' homer was the 245th in his major league career. Just the other day, he broke the old club record for homers set by Chuck Kline.

Poholsky was the loser, his fifth defeat against four wins.

Buc Game Postponed

PITTSBURGH, June 22 (AP)—The game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs was called at the end of 3 1-3 innings tonight because of light failure.

Umpires waited more than 1 hour and 15 minutes before calling the game after the field's arc lights went out with the Cubs ahead 2-0. Repairmen estimated it would take some three hours to repair a faulty conduit.

Gain Southern Semis Easily; Men's Singles Resume Today

By AL THOMY

Unlike the men, who made scrambles out of the seeded ranks, the ladies did not deviate from the expected Friday as they completed their quarter-final matches in the Southern Tennis championships at Bitsy Grant Center.

They even marched into the semifinals with a staggered victory margin, according to their position in the seedings.

First-ranked Karol Fageros of Miami defeated Betty Jo Braselton, Atlanta, 6-0, 6-0; second-seeded Yola Ramirez, Mexico, advanced at the expense of Bev Tolan, St. Louis, Mo., 6-2, 6-0, and third-ranked Evelyn Cowan, Covington, turned back the challenge of Sandra Loubat, New Orleans, 6-1, 6-4.

The other semfinalist was somewhat of a surprise, if you go by seedings, but not if you rate the players on performance. Donna Floyd, a former Atlantan who now calls Washington, D.C., home, defeated Martha Hernandez, Mexico, 6-1, 6-1.

Donna, a 15-year-old who last year won the National Girls' championship, has displayed one of the finest all-around games in the women's division. She chops, lobs and uses a power game, all with equal effectiveness.

Only seeded performer to lose out in the women's division was fourth-ranked Janie Haynie of Belton, S. C., who was eliminated by Hernandez in the second round.

Form held out in the men's doubles. Alex Olmedo and Poncho Contreras, first seeded, moved past Wade Herren and Les Longshore, 7-5, 6-4. The Herren-Longshore combo made it close, but Olmedo-Contreras went ahead by breaking the losers' service three times.

Making the semis with the top seeds were Armando Vieira-Johann Kupferburger, Frank Willett-Howard McCall and Larry Shippey-Crawford Henry teams. Willett and McCall were extended in a 12-10 first set against Maxwell Brown and Don Kaiser, but recovered nicely to take the finale 6-2.

Everything was going according to seeds in men's doubles.

Men's singles resume Saturday with Jack Frost, Monterey, Calif., going against Alex Olmedo, Mexico, and Jose Aguero, Brazil, meeting Poncho Contreras, Mexico, in the semis. Omedo is the top-seeded player remaining in the tournament. He was ranked No. 2.

Babe, Bedridden, To Get Surprise Birthday Gift

GALVESTON, Tex., June 22 (AP)—Babe Didrickson Zaharias' birthday is next Tuesday and husband George is planning a big surprise for her.

The Babe, America's greatest woman golfer, is undergoing treatment for a recurrence of cancer at John Sealy Hospital, the University of Texas medical branch here.

Zaharias, who has an apartment a block away, has been quietly telephoning friends all over America reminding them that Babe will be 43 on June 26, and that a few friendly messages might cheer her up a bit. Then, just to make sure it's all a surprise, he plans to keep newspapers away from her until the day arrives.

Bill Casper Shoots 67, Takes Lead

Mayer, Fetchick Trail in Philly

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP)—Aided by a spectacular eagle 2, Bill Casper, hard-hitting Chula Vista, Calif., pro, vaulted into the halfway lead in the $20,000 Philadelphia Daily News Open Golf Tournament today with a 36-hole card of 133.

Casper's eagle enabled him to salvage a round which found him running from good to bad before winding up with a one-under-par 67 for the Cobbs Creek course.

This figure, along with a first-round 66, gave him a two-stroke lead on his three closest rivals.

The Navy veteran gained the tourney's most brilliant score on the 308-foot shot even though the flag was still standing.

The eagle, plus birdies on three other holes, offset four bogies, including one on the 18th. After a year on the circuit, Casper is still seeking his first tournament victory.

Locked in a three-way tie for second at 135 were Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., Mike Fetchick, Mahopac, N. Y., and Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif., Mayer reeled off a three-under-par 65, the best round of the day, while Fetchick and Holscher added 68s to their first-round 67s.

Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., was all alone at 136, after a fine 66. The only others to shade par for the 36 holes were Gay Brewer Jr., Cincinnati; Al Besselink, Grossingers, N.Y.; Charles Sifford, Philadelphia; Doug Ford, Mahopac, and Art Wall Jr. of Poccono Manor, Pa., who were all even at 137.

Cary Middlecoff, newly-crowned U. S. Open titleholder still couldn't solve the layout, and wound up with a 71 for a two-day total of 143, 10 strokes behind the leader.

Indians Capture Fourth Straight Behind Garcia

Nifty Five-Hitter Whitewashes Nats, 4-0; Averill Paces Attack

CLEVELAND, June 22 (AP)—Mike Garcia, big righthander of the Cleveland Indians, blanked the Washington Nationals 4-0 on five hits tonight, to give Cleveland its fourth straight victory.

It was the second straight shutout for Cleveland pitchers. Early Wynn pitched a 5-0 four-hitter against Boston yesterday.

For Garcia it was his fifth win in 12 decisions, and the second time he has blanked the Nats this year. He beat them 7-0 on seven hits on June 4.

Cleveland scored all its runs in the second inning on an error, two walks, a double by rookie catcher Earl Averill and singles by Al Smith and Al Rosen.

Averill, son of a former Cleveland outfielder of the same name, also got two singles.

Williams Hits 1st HR

KANSAS CITY, June 22 (AP) — Ted Williams hit his first home run of the year and batted in three runs as the Boston Red Sox took a 6-3 win over Kansas City tonight.

The big Boston hero here walloped his clout on a three-two pitch off Art Ditmar in the first inning to spring the Sox into a quick lead. Jim Piersal, who had drawn a walk, scored ahead of Williams.

ITALIAN DRIVER FARINA ESCAPES DEATH AGAIN

MONZA, Italy, June 22 (AP)—Former world auto racing champion Nino Farina hurtled into a straw bale, somersaulted and was pinned under his 2,000 CC Maserati today—but made another of the amazing escapes for which he is famous.

The accident took place during the tests on the Monza track for Sunday's 1,000 kilometer (600 mile) Supercortemaggiore Grand Prix.

At Monza Hospital, where the 50-year-old racer was taken in seemingly grave condition, physicians said examination disclosed only two broken ribs, a broken collarbone and a severe face cut.

"He can leave the hospital in 20 days," Dr. Cesare Viganoni said.

At 50, Farina probably has survived more clashes than any other racer. The list goes back years. More recently, in 1954, he crashed in the Mille Miglia, but suffered only a broken arm. Farina's Ferrari caught fire during a trial for the 1954 Supercortemaggiore race soon after and he was badly burned.

Today he had a premonition of disaster. He agreed to drive only after Maserati took out a special life insurance policy on him.

Norcross Belters To Battle Duluth

Harold Garmon's Norcross nine, one of the hardest hitting clubs in the Atlanta Amateur Baseball Federation and loser of only two games all season, will battle it out with old rival Duluth for at least a share of the second half North Atlanta League lead at Duluth Sunday.

The Norcrossers have three hitters—Thurman Terrell, Ray Garmon and Junior Davis—lashing the ball at a better than .500 clip. And young Gene Womack, just a year out of Norcross high school, is whaling away at a better than .400 clip. Byron Barnett and Ray Garmon are two of the better pitchers around, and Hilton Johnson one of the really top-flight catchers.

The Norcrossers probably will be facing the slants of Joe McKelvey, one-time property of the Atlanta Crackers.

Belmont Hills will tangle with Shurbutt Service in what should be one of the toughest games in the City League Saturday. Atlanta fans will be able to watch sensational young J. D. Johnson in action when Milstead invades the Old Murphy High diamond to play East Atlanta in a Rucker League test Saturday.

Ohio's Young 'Men' Challenging Crown

Stagman Spurs Teammates; Ft. Lauderdale Leads Women

By MICKEY LOGUE
Constitution Sports Writer

LAGRANGE, June 22—Coach Paul Hartlaub's Coca-Cola Swim Club boys, who traveled from Cincinnati, Ohio, to tackle a man sized job, appeared equal to the task as the 10th annual Southern Peach Swimming and Diving Championships opened here Friday.

Though five of the six-man Coca-Cola contingent are eligible for boys' competition, Hartlaub sent his lads after the men's title as a "challenge," bypassing the 16-and-under division.

However, it fell the lot of Olympic candidate Charlie Stagman, whose 19 years make him squad dean this trip, to spur his younger teammates into a first-day lead in the men's bracket.

(Swimming trials start on Saturday, 9 a.m., with finals scheduled at 8 p.m.)

The defending champion Buckeye staters held a slim 38-34 edge over a surprisingly strong Ft. Benning team entering Saturday's showdown. Stagman, who's been a member of the Coke team 13 seasons, took a torrid 1,500-meter freestyle trip, slicing 25.1 seconds off the 20:42.7 record he set here last summer. Then Charlie chipped in a backstroke leg—a stroke unfamiliar to him—on a record 440-yard medley relay swim.

Fifteen-year-old Orrin Nordstrom paced the Coke youngsters' contribution with a 100-yard freestyle first, 1,500 meter second and a lap of the relay.

Ft. Lauderdale Swim Assn., smashing one standard twice in the process, piled up a commanding lead in the women's division with 67 points. Closest pursuer was Lakeside Swim Club of Louisville, Ky., with 25.

Among the other record-setters were Greater Tampa Swim Association's 220-yard medley relay team; Martin O'Toole of Lakeside Swim Club in the 200-yard individual medley; Paul Wachendorfer, unattached, of Ponte Vedra, Fla., in the men's 200-yard orthodox breaststroke; Hort Soper of Miami in the 50-yard freestyle (Boys' 13-and-under), and Greater Tampa's Boys' 200-yard medley relayers.

In the boys' one-meter diving finals, Lou Vitucci, South Broward Swim Assn., Hollywood, Fla., totaled 280.2 points to win first place easily.

Florida Yacht Club's Kathy Fulenwider edged Fort Lauderdale Swim Association's Joel Lenzi in a battle of pretty blondes.

Rico Maschino, four-time winner of the boys' one-meter diving, won the 3-meter men's event with 406.05 points, nosing out young Vitucci.

Thirteen-year-old Lindsey took second in the women's 3-meter to Carol Collins of Miami Shores Country Club.

Rain interrupted proceedings briefly in the afternoon but failed to dampen the tenth and finest Peach Meet at beautiful Callaway pool.

Fort Lauderdale Swim Assn. led Emory Aquatic Club, 29-23, in the girls' 16-and-under division, while Greater Tampa squeaked past Lakeside Swim Club, 26-25, in the boys' division.

Neely Beaten In Singles And Doubles

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., June 22 (AP)—Eddie Sledge staged a notable comeback here today to capture the National Schoolboy Tennis Championship with a 3-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0 victory over Ned Neely of Atlanta.

Sledge, who was seeded fifth, is the first Texas youngster to take the title since Bernard Bartzen emerged on top in 1944 at Haverford, Pa. He is from Dallas.

In the doubles, Neely and Harry Thompson of Atlanta, bowed to Dick Ogden of New Canaan, Conn. and Edward Simmons of St. Louis, 7-5, 7-5, 6-1.

Neely showed the effect of his gruelling singles match in the last doubles set as the New Englanders reeled off four straight games to win.

Nashville Pummels Pels In 10th, 10-7

Compiled From Wire Reports

The Nashville Vols poured across three runs in the tenth inning to trim New Orleans, 10-7, tonight after the Pels had tied the score in the eighth with a five-run burst that featured Gail Henley's bases-full double.

A six-run second inning by the Vols highlighted a three-run homer by Country Brown off Al Grunwald. Chuck Churn rescued Grunwald and was effective until the 10th when an error, walk, Tom Brown's triple and another error put the game in the Vol win column.

Surging Chattanooga belted Mobile, 9-1, and Birmingham was pushed 10 innings before nipping Little Rock, 7-6.

Hammond, Sutton, Hall Grab Spots in National Publinx

Carson Fails With a 155

By BERT PRATHER

Gordon Hammond of Columbus shot a 75-71—146 over the par 71 Bobby Jones golf course Friday to take top spot in sectional qualifying for the USGA Publinx championship scheduled at San Francisco July 9-14.

The other two places on the Georgia team went to Jimmy Sutton, Georgia Tech golf team member who had a 78-71—149, and John R. Hall with a 77-76—153. These three will carry the Georgia colors in the Harding Cup team championship competition but will face 36 more holes of qualifying at the national tourney site before they can enter the individual championship.

For Hammond, whose family operates a motel at Columbus, it marks the fifth time he has qualified for the National Publinx. He made it three times from the Chicago, Ill., sectional and once before from here.

The only problem he has now is to raise the money he'll need for the trip. The two Atlantans' way will be paid by the city, but anyone qualifying from outside the city must get their traveling expenses elsewhere, according to USGA sectional committeeman J. D. Croxton.

Croxton feels sure Columbus friends will see that Gordon gets to the championship since he qualified No. 1 from Georgia.

The real surprise of the qualifying rounds was the failure of City Publinx champion Johnny Carson to qualify. He shot a 78-77—155 to become first alternate.

Qualifiers—Gordon Hammond, 75-71—146; Jimmy Sutton, 78-71—149; John R. Hall, 77-76—153. Alternates: John Carson, 78-77—155. Jack Butler, 75-81—156; A. T. Harmon 79-77—156.

Others—Gene Hay, 157; W. S. Belyeu, 157; Paul Sheppard, 157; Dan Stovall, Gainesville, 158; I. J. Earl, 159; Amon Sparks, 159; Bill Wright, 159; Alvin Ellis, 159; G. C. Brisbane Jr., 160; Charles M. Epiphany Episcopal Relocates at Emory

By WARREN BOSWORTH

Another chapter in Atlanta's church history closes Sunday when the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany concludes services in its present home at 502 Seminole Ave., northeast.

After serving the Little Five Points district for 63 years, Epiphany is bowing to the wishes of its membership, which has moved away from the area.

Services will begin July 1 at their new church home at the Emory University Theology Chapel. Church officials have announced that plans are now being made for a new building to be erected at the intersection of Ponce de Leon avenue and East Lake road.

Epiphany Church was organized in 1898, after members held services in private homes for five years. Later a small church was built in the triangle at Little Five Points.

Space limitations forced the church to sell the original building and in 1922 the present plant was constructed.

Many of the members who attended the first services in the present building are expected for Sunday's final sermon. Dr. Norman Gore is rector of the church.

Building Drive To End

Grace Methodist Church concludes its $500,000 building fund campaign Sunday.

During the past two weeks, two-man teams have visited homes of each member in an effort to raise contributions for new additions to the church building and a parking lot.

The new additions are to be the last word in design and construction. They will include air-conditioned classrooms, and recreation and social rooms.

The latest half-million-dollar campaign is the second step of a long-range building program undertaken by Grace Methodists.

Three years ago they built a new sanctuary, added Sunday school rooms, purchased a parking lot, and installed air-conditioning units and a new heating system.

The $500,000 program underway now is to be paid over a three-year period, beginning July 1. Dr. Alexander Stewart, Department of Finance and Field Services of the Board of Directors of the Methodist Church is directing the campaign.

Guest Speaker

The Rev. Gene McGee, former Atlanta youth director, will be the guest speaker at both services of the Jones Memorial Church, Forest Park, Sunday.

A graduate of Tech High and a former chaplain with the U.S. Army, Rev. McGee returned to Atlanta in 1948 and formed the Youth For Christ organization. He directed the group until January 1955.

Since 1955, he has directed the Chicagoland Youth for Christ.

leaving Ousley, Decatur, to assume the pastorate at First Church, Thomaston. The Rev. Harry L. Wood comes to Ousley from Canton.

POWELL TO CANTON

The Rev. N. O. L. Powell goes to Canton from Atlanta's St. Paul church. He will be replaced by the Rev. Jimmy Moore from Chickamauga.

The pulpit at Park Street, vacated by the Rev. Mr. Manning, will be assumed by the Rev. Frank Q. Echols from St. James, Augusta. Replacing the Rev. Mr. Echols is the Rev. Roger Stone from First Church, Cedartown.

The Rev. George Wannamaker goes from St. Luke, Atlanta, to Oconee Street, Athens.

The major action taken by the conference was the adoption of a $2,000,000 education expansion program.

The Rev. L. A. Harrell left the Macon district of the South Georgia Conference to assume the helm of the newly formed Commission on Higher Education which is sponsoring the statewide drive.

The campaign will be conducted in the fall of 1957 and will benefit six of the denomination's colleges.

RACIAL ISSUE

The conference also went on record as approving the recent actions of the Methodist General Conference regarding the race issue by passing a resolution read by the Rev. Waights G. Henry Jr., president of LaGrange College.

The resolution expressed its satisfaction with the actions "allowing racial desegregation on a voluntary and mutually agreeable basis," and urged the General Conference in 1960 "to preserve and strengthen the geographical jurisdictional structure."

In a statement aimed at clarifying the "wide-spread misunderstanding" of the General Conference's stand on the race question, Bishop Moore gave an explanation of the three major actions taken by the church's supreme body last month.

He said that the resolution urging abolishment of racial discrimination was not part of the Methodist discipline and was therefore not Church law.

The amendment which the Conference approved, said the Bishop, merely provides a way for a Negro church to transfer to a white conference or jurisdiction, but forces no such action.

State Labor Elects Cetti Of Atlanta

MACON, June 22 (AP)—William A. Cetti of Atlanta Friday was unanimously elected president of the Georgia Federation of Labor as the organization wound up its 58th annual convention here.

Cetti, now celebrating his 50th year as a member of organized labor, will fill out the unexpired term of J. B. Pate of Macon, who resigned because his position as Southeastern representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers keeps him out of the state for long periods.

A native Georgian, Cetti has lived in Atlanta since 1920. He has been president of the Painters and Decorators Union there for the past 29 years, secretary-treasurer of the Building Construction Trades Council and a member of Atlanta Federation of Trade for some 30 years.

In accepting the nomination, Cetti said, "I know vast responsibility has been placed upon me by the workers of Georgia. I have worked at all times to help the masses of working people.

"As president of the Georgia Federation of Labor I shall continue to protect the interests of all classes of workers so they may reap better economic conditions, good housing and be afforded fair opportunity in regard to health and education and the over-all well-being of all citiizens in Georgia."

District vice presidents elected in today's final session are W. W. Green of Albany, J. W. Cain of Savannah, R. B. Randall of Atlanta, W. W. Holley of Augusta, C. K. Curray of Brunswick and T. Frank Jones, Macon.

Ordination Rites For Thorington Slated Sunday

The Rev. Allison Williams, pastor of Trinity Church, Dr. Harry Fifield of the First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Thomas A. Fry of the Druid Hills Presbyterian Church, Marthame Sanders, L. E. Williams, Harlee Branch, Tom Barrow and George Goodwin will also participate in the ordination ceremonies.

Billy Graham

Putting God First Lights Man's Path

QUESTION: How do you explain the verse in Matthew: "He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for My sake shall find it?" —O. F.

ANSWER: This is one of the many truths in the Bible which seems to be paradoxical but actually contains a fact of the greatest importance. First of all, let us realize that God's perspective and man's perspective are entirely different. God looks at everything in the light of truth and of eternity. Man looks at things from the standpoint of this perishing world and its warped ideas.

In the verse you refer to, God is telling us that we may spend all of our lives getting the things we think most important—money, position, friends, influence, popularity, power, material possessions—only to wake up some day (possibly too late) to realize that we have lost all of them and our eternal soul, too.

On the other hand, when we put God first in our lives and ask Him to work out His holy will for us, people around us may think we are very foolish. But, some day we will find that we not only gained eternal life but received the best out of this life, too.

Are All Laxatives Alike?

A Lot of People Think So but They Aren't.
Here are Some Interesting Things About Them:

1. Some laxatives act only on the large intestine, while others act on the small intestine.

2. If the large intestine is constipated and you take a laxative that acts principally on the small intestine the results will be incomplete and disappointing.

3. Likewise, if the trouble is in the small intestine and you take a laxative that acts only on the large intestine you cannot expect full and complete relief.

4. Most cases of constipation affect both the large and small intestines, so if your laxative acts on only one you are doing a half-way job.

5. Some laxatives contain carminatives that allay griping and nausea—others do not.

The foregoing explains why so many people get incomplete results when they take a laxative, and why they suffer from griping and nausea.

Thanks to Calotabs you can get in one pleasant, sugar-coated tablet a combination of laxative medicines that act on every inch of BOTH the LARGE and SMALL intestines. Calotabs also contain two of the most effective carminatives known to medical science. Therefore, Calotabs are thorough and dependable, and act without griping, nausea and other unpleasant effects. Over-night Calotabs relieve biliousness, sour stomach, bloating and headache due to faulty elimination.

Get a 30c package of Calotabs from your nearest drug counter and use them as directed when you need relief from constipation. Join the thousands of others who have found Calotabs to be their first choice as a laxative because they thoroughly act on BOTH the LARGE and SMALL intestines. Your money will be gladly refunded if you are not delighted with Calotabs. (adv.)

3 Women Shot Down By Ohioan

home. Mrs. Wilson, visiting her sister, saw the car approach. She turned off the light. She, Mrs. Botts and the three Wilson children crowded into a bathroom and locked the door.

Mrs. Botts opened the bathroom door to answer Wilson's pounding at the front door. Outlined by the light inside, she fell dead with two bullets in her chest, fired by Wilson through a living room window.

Once again Wilson fled. Near Leavittsburg, he spotted a parked car, approached with pistol in hand. He demanded money from Thomas E. Heidelberg, 17, Chagrin Falls, Ohio, and Arthur C. Johnson, 17, Warren.

They told him they had no cash. He forced them to walk off into the darkness, then pulled the screaming Worthington girl from the car and into his own auto.

He pistol-whipped the shrieking girl, then shot her twice through the head. Her battered body was found on a country road near Windham this morning. Searchers found the car abandoned two miles south of where the girl's body was found.

Wilson Orders Capital Brass To Don Civvies

Wilson told newsmen at his annual defense conference here that he does not think that "at the seat of government it is a good thing to have so many people putting on a military act."

Before World War II officers assigned to desk jobs in Washington wore civilian clothes. Since World War II an officer has been permitted to wear "civvies" only during their off-duty hours.

Beethoven Discs Rock Rollers in Supermarts

NEW YORK, June 22 (UP)—With supermarket shoppers, its Beethoven over rock 'n' roll, 3 to 1.

Grand Union Supermarkets, which put canned music on sale in its canned goods departments June 7, said Beethoven's 5th Symphony outsold rock and roll records by 300 per cent during the first two weeks of the experimental sale.

Trials Start at 9 a.m. For Soap Box Derby

An oversized field of 338 entrants has forced starting time for trial heats in the Soap Box Derby up one hour to 9 a.m. Saturday.

Frank C. Berry, derby director, said final races will be held as scheduled at 2 p.m.

Last year's Atlanta champion, Tommy Zachary, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Zachary, 987 Myrtle St., NE, will open Saturday's races with a solo trip over the course on 10th St., NE, between Parkway drive and Boulevard.

GOP Picks Gov. Langlie As Keynoter

Francisco will be President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

The choice of Langlie and Bush for key convention posts indicated the emphasis Republicans are laying on the campaign to regain control of the Senate. Langlie got into the race against Democratic Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington at the urging of Eisenhower. Bush was unanimously renominated by Connecticut Republicans in their state convention this week.

HARRIMAN LINK

Bush, a Wall Street investment banker, is a partner of the firm of Brown Brothers Harriman & Co., of which Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, is a member.

When Hall was asked if this might prove "embarrassing" to the platform chairman, the GOP national chairman laughed off the question.

The Connecticut senator, who said he would accept the appointment as chairman of the platform group, fought vigorously last year for Eisenhower's proposal for bond-financing of the long-range highway program.

Bush served as a member of the Randall Commission which recommended liberalizing of international trade agreements. He voted to reprimand Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and is author of a still-pending proposed code of ethics for congressional investigations.

SAY SCAN RECORD

Bush said tonight that the Democrats won't make any hay with "big business" charges if they consult his record.

"They will find that my record show that as a senator I have been exceedingly considerate of the little man," he said.

every evidence of seizing upon it as a campaign talking point.

TAXPAYERS' VIEW

On the other hand, there were those who contended that Wilson's stand would do the administration no harm with a lot of taxpayers. For Wilson is in the role—highly unusual for a government official—of telling Congress sternly not to give him so much money to spend.

The Democratic-controlled Senate Appropriations Committee recently recommended $1,160,000,000 more for the Air Force than the administration asked. This was in line with criticism that the Eisenhower defense program is inadequate. Later Sen. Bridges came up with a compromise proposal for a 500 million dollar boost.

"MAYBE I SHOULDN'T HAVE"

Asked about these moves at a news conference at Quantico, Va., last night, Wilson called them "phony." He added later—too late to affect the senators who came steaming with anger into the Senate this morning—that, "Well, maybe I shouldn't have said it."

The secretary said further that, "I would like to see the people that vote for the expenditure, vote for the taxes to produce the money to pay for it, the same people, and stand up and be counted."

Bridges told the Senate today he had read of what Wilson said with "amazement and shock."

"I feel," Bridges elaborated in a statement, "that the American people were entitled to this extra safeguard and I disagree with Secretary Wilson that they are not willing to pay for additional defense in guaranteeing the security of this country."

TERMED AN INSULT

Sen. Smathers (D-Fla) told the Senate that Wilson was saying the people want a strong defense but aren't willing to pay for it. He said this was an insult, and "It is time for the President to call on this secretary of defense to apologize." He said that "once again" Wilson has shown "his ability to put both feet in his mouth."

Sen. Ervin (D-NC), accusing Wilson of "a gratuitous and unfounded insult to the American people," said:

"He is much more concerned about the security of dollars than of our national defense."

One of the milder senatorial remarks came from Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader:

"I don't agree with his point of view. Mr. Wilson is entitled to his point of view but Congress is going to exercise its independent judgment."

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) did make some remarks upholding the administration's military budget. He said Air Force generals had testified they could use many billions more over the next several years, but the senator added:

"Our economic life in this country cannot bear that burden except in wartime when everything is concentrated on the winning of the war."

Sen. Ellender (D-La), who said he is opposed to any extra appropriation, observed that Wilson was hurting his own case.

"The secretary has a habit of antagonizing people," Ellender said. "Secretary Wilson talks too much."

CITE PLEAS BY OTHERS

Sen. Jackson said in his speech that Secretary of the Air Force Quarles had recommended $2,363,000,000 more than Wilson approved, and asked: "Is Mr. Quarles a phony?"

Symington accused Wilson of ridiculing Gen. Curtis LeMay, "the world's greatest authority on strategic air power."

LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, has suggested he could use an extra $3,800,000,000 a year for several years. Wilson told his Quantico conference that LeMay, in talking about production rates for the B52 bomber, "acted like he didn't know what our plans were."

Designer Claims Speed of Light For Space Ship

GENOA, Italy, June 22 (UP)—A former pupil of the inventor of the radio claims he has designed an atomic engine that could propel a space ship for years at a speed approaching that of light.

Adelmo Landindi, who assisted Guglielmo Marconi in his radiotelegraph experiments, says his "closed cycle reactor" would reuse the original amount of gas and a small amount of atomic fuel.

He says the space ship could approach the speed of light in one year's time, and could "approach the closest constellation, Centaurus, in six or seven years' time."

Cyclist Dies; Crash Victims Are Identified

Three traffic deaths within 24 hours Friday raised Atlanta's toll for the year to 30, one more than for the same period last year.

30

Traffic Fatalities So Far This Year Compared With 29 In A Similar Period of 1955.

Latest death was that of John E. Humphries, 21, of 863 Curran St., NW, who died Friday, six days after he was injured in an auto-motorcycle crash at Boulevard and Atlanta avenue, SE.

Meanwhile, police identified Mrs. Sylvia Rose Hunt Frymer, 23, of Jonesboro, as one of two persons killed in an auto wreck on Bankhead avenue at Maddox Park late Thursday. The other victim was Mrs. Josephine Lucinda Edwards, 38, of 798 Hightower Rd., NW, the mother of four.

Funeral services for Humphries will be at 3 p.m. Saturday at Couch Riverside Chapel with the Rev. Earle L. Fuller officiating. Burial will be in Crestlawn Memorial Park.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Humphries, and a brother, Mercer, all of Atlanta, and grandmother, Mrs. John T. Barfield of Chamblee.

Love or Perish

Love Must Be Mutual

By SMILEY BLANTON, M. D.

CHAPTER XIX

Amid the "lusty squalor of the Twentieth Century," in Winston Churchill's apt phrase, any plea for greater love in human affairs may well sound naive and old-fashioned. For modern industrial society, tough and "practical" in its approach to life, for the most part sees little reason to concern itself with man's inner emotional needs.

Yet, for all our outward toughness, one need not probe very deep to discover the aching emotional void beneath. Our need for love is a basic reality whose power to shape the course of life is greater than that of any material force in the world outside.

We may officially extol the virtues of our fiercely competitive scramble for the material prizes of the world, but it needs only casual observation to tell us that in private we suffer almost universally from a profound undercurrent of loneliness, depression, and insecurity.

SIMPLE FIRST STEP

If we wish to bring more love into our lives, therefore, we must begin by taking a simple first step. We must acknowledge openly—both to ourselves and to one another—that we all do in truth need and want love.

As a further step, we must vigorously reaffirm our belief that the gratification of these emotional needs is not only a valid goal for mature men to pursue, but is also an indispensable requisite of human happiness without which life can have no true meaning.

Too many of us have maintained silence on this score as we have watched man rush onward for more than a century in his insatiable desire to conquer nature. Intimidated by the brilliance of modern inventive genius, we have permitted one scientific miracle after another to be substituted for the infinitely greater wonders of the human heart. Our increasing reliance on staggering complex mechanical instruments has subtly shaken our self-esteem to a point where man is no longer certain of his own individual worth.

Not long ago I witnessed an instance of this psychological distress as it developed among people I knew in a small town. They were a group of telephone operators whose long service had built up an affectionate personal relationship with almost everyone in the community. But one fateful day the automatic dial system was installed, and with it their entire lives were undermined at a stroke.

No economic hardship was involved, for they were all shifted to other jobs elsewhere at the same salaries. It was the blow to their pride—to their sense of usefulness and importance as human beings—which darkened their spirit. For example, many of the subscribers were their friends and they enjoyed a cheery good morning, or a sympathetic grousing about the weather. They felt humiliated at being replaced by an electronic device (however more efficient) and were deeply saddened by the loss of the warm, human contacts they had valued for so many years. They had no choice, however, but to accept the inevitable march of "progress" in silence, and to hide their unhappiness as best they could.

We are all oppressed, far more than we realize, by this enforced concealment of our hopes and desires. Its unspoken betrayal of human integrity evokes deep resentments that emerge to plague us in disguised forms, of which the brutal cynicism so often encountered in modern life is but one example.

OPEN AVOWAL

An open avowal of the need for love in every aspect of life can therefore serve as an emotional release and a rallying point for a new approach to our personal, social, and economic problems. As long as we remain inarticulate in our opposition to this trend, we can do little to resist the flood of purely destructive emotion it sets loose. We must make a clear statement of our determination to restore the balance of forces, and thus to regain proper control of our basic energies, if we wish to move forward

German Student Wins Diploma in Thomasville

By BETTY CARROLLTON
Constitution Staff Writer

THOMASVILLE, June 22—An adopted citizen of the "City of Roses" Sunday will bid farewell to Thomasville townspeople as she begins the first lap of a long journey home.

Miss Christel Muhleissen, 17, will return to Frankfurt, Germany, with "countless" happy memories of a year in America, the best wishes of her south Georgia "family" and friends, and a treasured possession, her diploma from Thomasville High School.

Through the cooperation of the American Field Service, the Thomasville Junior Woman's Club sponsored Christel as a foreign exchange student.

The project necessitated endorsement by School Supt. R. D. Blakeney, transportation for Christel, a home for her in Thomasville and responsibility for her scholastic counseling and welfare and happiness in the community.

QUICKLY ACCEPTED

"Christel's vivacious personality led to her quick acceptance by schoolmates," said Mrs. Revis Blakeney, past president of the Woman's Club. "The responsibility for her welfare and happiness has been light indeed."

"Our sponsorship of Christel has been a happy experience for us all," added Mrs. James Colvin, newly elected president.

The women collected financial assistance for transportation from several civic organizations.

Each group contributed $50 toward the necessary $650. The Junior Woman's Club paid the additional $200.

Dr. and Mrs. James Reid opened their home to Christel, and the attractive young German became a popular member of the household.

Her year at Thomasville High has been called "most successful." She was chosen homecoming queen; she was initiated into the Sub-Deb Club and Tri-Hi-Y. Her "marked dramatic talent" won her leading roles in several presentations by the high school dramatics class.

Christel's first pair of high-heeled shoes was a gift from the Woman's Club, along with a formal gown to wear to the opening of the Metropolitan Opera in Atlanta.

The German beauty's first Christmas away from home was celebrated American-style with the Reids.

CHRISTMAS SHOWER

The Woman's Club honored Christel with a Christmas shower. Among her gifts was a camera for pictures to send home.

Her year in Thomasville introduced the sparkling brown-eyed beauty to several all-American customs, including Southern fried chicken, "green punch with sherbet in it," jitterbugging and Bermuda shorts.

"Thomasville is like one big park," Christel observed. "There are no fences cutting off and separating the homes. Oh, the beautiful flowers and trees, and the houses that sit right on the ground!"

Christel will leave Saturday for Mobile where she will join other American Field Service foreign students for a three-week tour of the United States before sailing for Germany.

She expects to keep in close touch with her Georgia friends.

"Since there was a foreign exchange student from AFS in Thomasville," explained Mrs. Colvin, "our high school students were eligible to enter competition to send a youth to Europe for the summer months."

The AFS selected Teresa Kindred, a junior, to visit Germany this summer.

Teresa will live in Dusseldorf during her seven-week overseas visit. She also will visit Paris and other cities.

Inspired by their success as sponsors of Christel, the club applied for another exchange student for next year.

"We have asked for an Austrian boy," Mrs. Colvin said.

REUNION GROUP AT NEW GRADY HOSPITAL
Mrs. H. A. Haas, Right, Miss Annie Bess Feebeck, Center; Mrs. Gordon Barrow

Miss Feebeck and Nurses of 1944 Holding Class Reunion at Grady

By YOLANDE GWIN

The red Grady ambulance whizzed out on an emergency call, its siren screaming.

"My goodness," said Miss Annie Bess Feebeck, "when I started at Grady there wasn't anything that speedy and fancy. We had two carriages and two horses, and when a call came, the horses were hitched and away they went!

"The stable was right over there where the maintenance building is now. If a call came in at night, the driver hitched the horses, the doctor dressed and they started out. It was just like the old fire engines!"

Miss Feebeck was back at the hospital Friday all set to meet some of her "girls" who were also coming from places as far away as California and New Jersey for a reunion of the Class of 1944 of the Grady School of Nursing.

BUFFET SUPPER

Festivities began last night with a buffet supper at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Barrow, and today there will be open house at Grady plus tours of the new building. And, of course, there will be peeps into rooms at Hirsch Hall, where they lived. The other home for nurses, named Feebeck Hall for Miss Feebeck, was dedicated in 1947.

"It is the first reunion of a class since the School of Nursing was opened in 1898," said Mrs. H. A. Haas, who was on hand to welcome Miss Feebeck. "Will you ever forget how we lined up in front of the building to have our class picture made, Janie?"

SAME YEAR

"No, I never will, for it was the same year that Miss Feebeck retired after nearly 35 years as director of the School of Nursing," said "Janie," who is now Mrs. Gordon Barrow. "And as I look back now I think she knew all the time I was slipping out for coffee between shifts with that young medical student I later married!"

"I knew exactly what you were doing and I was all for the marriage," said Miss Feebeck. "But don't think you were breaking any rules. None of my girls did!"

Miss Feebeck was a member of the graduating class of 1909 at Grady and became director of nursing the following year. She was chief nurse at Ft. McPherson during World War I and later resumed her work at Grady.

TO ROBINSON RIDGE

Soon after the graduation of the 1944 class, she retired and, with her sister, Miss Mary Feebeck, also a retired nurse, went to live on Robinson Ridge near Clayton.

The class of 1944 held its graduation ceremonies at the Central Presbyterian Church.

"I think most of the girls are married, but they still nurse," said Mrs. Barrow. "But we will be catching up on them when we all get together."

And how is it that only the class of 1944 has had a reunion?

"I cannot speak for the other classes," said Mrs. Haas, "but on graduation day we all promised to come back to Grady as a group some day. We also promised to write each other. This reunion is the result."

"Every class claimed Miss Feebeck," said Mrs. Barrow. "But it gives us quite a thrill to know she is gathering with us."

Then Mrs. Haas said:

"I went to the dry cleaner several years ago and the man in charge didn't know my name, but he looked at me right hard and said, 'You are one of Miss Feebeck's girls from Grady, aren't you'?"

"Why that was Guy Gunter," said Miss Feebeck. "He was one of the ambulance drivers when I was there!"

July Bean Up; Oats, Corn Off

CHICAGO, June 22 (AP)—Soybeans displayed a little strength and lard scored fairly good gains on the Board of Trade today. But all the major grains turned downward.

Mild hedging pressure and some selling by local traders prior to the weekend were enough to send wheat down. In the final minutes, however, the bread grain rallied from early lows.

Oats and new crop corn eased on receipt of additional moisture in the midwest. This also limited gains in new crop soybeans to fractions despite a jump of 3 cents in July soybeans, helped by short covering. The Agriculture department authorized Spain to purchase 10 million dollars worth of either soybean oil or cottonseed oil. However, cash bean oil was down ⅛ to ¼ at 13 3/8 to 13½ cents a pound. Japan bought soybeans. Switzerland and Norway took wheat and Holland bought small quantities of oats and corn.

Pretty much ignored was an offer by the Agriculture department to pay costs of processing government owned wheat and corn into flour and meal for donation to school lunch programs, institutions and needy persons abroad.

Buying in lard appeared to be based mainly on yesterday's Agriculture department report that pig production this year will be down 8 per cent from last year. Loose lard held unchanged at 10 cents a pound.

Evening-Up Clips New Stock Push

But Volume Dries Up As Prices Move Down

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—A day and a half of mild rallying was clipped by profit-taking late today, leaving stock market prices mixed.

Leading issues showed gains and losses ranging to around a point at most. A scattering of special issues went beyond this.

The day began with a continuation of yesterday's advance. Prices improved in early afternoon, then slipped gradually as trading slowed.

Brokers saw the performance as a typical example of preweekend profit taking as investors evened up their positions for whatever the next two days might bring.

ENCOURAGEMENT

The drying up of volume as prices weakened was looked upon by Wall Streeters as an encouraging sign for the market's fundamental strength.

Dow-Jones industrial were off 31 cents at the close or $3.41 under the day's high and $1.83 off the low.

General Motors, which has been high on the most-active list all week, was at the top for the second time this week, off ¼ at 44¾ on 35,100 shares.

Panhandle Oil, a favorite since last Thursday on news of the proposal to merge with American Petrofina, was second, off ⅜ at 16 on 25,300 shares. United Dye & Chemical was third, up ¾ at 12⅜ on 21,300 shares.

Next came Peabody Coal, unchanged at 14⅝ and Ford Motor, up ⅞ at 56 on 13,900.

There was no outstanding piece of news to affect the general picture. But steels weakened following the issuance of strike instructions by the United Steelworkers.

AIRCRAFTS FALL BACK

Aircrafts lost yesterday's strength as Boeing dipped ¾.

Most rails were spotty and Santa Fe showed an exceptional loss of 2¼. Louisville & Nashville gained 1¾ on news of recommended approval of its merger with Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis which advanced 3 points. Atlantic Coast Line, which controls L&N, rose ⅞.

Container Corp. which rose 6¼ yesterday, apparently in anticipation of the 4-for-1 stock split announced today, had stretched its advance to 11 points this morning, then fell off after the news came. It closed at 90½, up 1¾ on the day and up 6¾ points in two sessions.

Prices were irregular in the American Stock Exchange with volume at 630,000 shares compared with 710,000 yesterday.

Corporate bonds were higher. U.S. government bonds declined in the over-the-counter market.

Cotton Up, Down 30 Cts.

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 30 cents a bale lower to 30 cents higher today.

Old crop July dipped on increased liquidation. The selling was well taken, reflecting the prevailing view that only a small number of tenders will be issued against July futures.

The recent trend in certificated stocks has been lower. The July open interest at the start today was down 136,200 bales, with the first notice day coming up Monday.

Trade and commission house buying extended gains in new crop months to 45 cents a bale before the market eased on local selling. Hedging was light. Liverpool sources covered nearby contracts against sales of March futures.

Cotton crop reports were favorable. Prices on some types of cotton textiles declined, reflecting the slow demand for cloth.

An eye-opener if you are "Under Insured"!

Because it is sold in a minimum amount of $10,000, Gulf Life Preferred Risk protection gives you more insurance for your money — permits many "under insured" men to round out their insurance plans. Example: At age 35, $410 per year will provide $20,000 protection. At age 65, this plan would yield $10,936 in cash —and your protection would cost you only $2.27 per year per thousand. L&N Starts Piggy Back Hauling Here

"Piggy back" freight moved out of Atlanta Friday for the first time.

Ten tons of metal was loaded on a tractor-trailer truck and pulled to the L & N freight yards The trailer was placed on a flat car and the tractor detached. At Cincinnati, destination of the cargo, another tractor will deliver the load to the consignee.

Hal W. Brown, L&N agent, said the railroad hopes eventually to provide flat cars longer than standard size to accommodate two trailers instead of one.

Brown said the "piggy back" system, begun last August between New Orleans and Louisville, has grown to take in about 26 routes. It now speeds shipments to and from Louisville, Nashville, Birmingham, Cincinnati, St. Louis, East St. Louis, New Orleans and Atlanta.

Norman Elsas Resigns Posts With Fulton Bag

Norman Elsas has resigned as vice president and general manager of the fabrics division of Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills to devote his time to other interests.

Elsas announced Friday he had formed a new corporation, Nemo Industries Inc., to expand the distribution of several of his inventions. His office will be in Buckhead.

Among Elsas' inventions is a novel camera recently advertised in a double-page spread in a national magazine. Another is a special machine for the preparation of sizing materials and adhesives.

Elsas said the new firm would announce several other items soon.

Stock control of Fulton Bag recently was sold for about 10 million dollars to a group of industrialists headed by Julius W. Abernathy, Newton, N. C.

A Rhyme a Day

"As a rule, children are more responsive to the advice of the mother since their association is more intimate. The father sees less of them and sometimes disrupts the good efforts of the wife by snap decisions."—Child article quote.

There's nothing that's neater . . . there's nothing that's sweeter . . . than some little girl in a clean pinafore . . . and what's more attractive . . . than some boy who's active . . . and scatters his playthings all over the floor.

There's nothing more irking . . . to mothers, when working . . . than having the father at home for the day . . . although mama loves him . . . she pushes and shoves him . . . around for he's always somewhere in the way.

Though it may not bother . . . the stay-at-home father . . . a man is a nuisance that's second to none . . . the children won't mind him . . . and sometimes we find him . . . advising his woman how homes should be run.

It is our opinion . . . that's woman's dominion . . . a place where a man should have little to say . . . you shouldn't advise her . . . so why not surprise her . . . by keeping your mouth closed or staying away.

Love or Perish

True Love Should Be Mutual Feeling

on the road that will bring more love into our individual lives.

Now, it is obvious that every normal person must approach life with a practical concern for his economic welfare. We depend on the material world for the gratification of basic physical needs, and no one familiar with the blight spread by poverty and deprivation would deny that man's economic well-being is a vital factor in human happiness.

GREATER IMPORTANCE

Yet there is another kind of well-being which is of far greater importance for man's true happiness. It comes when we have satisfied the compelling need in every human being to prove to the outside world that he is a "good" person, and hence someone worthy of being loved. The urge to do so is rooted deep in our natures. It first arises when we are called upon as infants to give such proof to our parents.

To be a lovable person in the deepest sense, therefore, it follows that we must re-create an adult version of the good qualities originally evolved in the relationship between mother and child.

What, specifically, are these qualities? The answer is contained in the twofold, reciprocal nature of the early infantile situation. On the one hand, the mother is good and lovable primarily because she is the giver of life, the source of nourishment that sustains it, and (with the father) the guardian against all harm. She is generous, patient and forgiving. Her strength and devotion — again, with the father's — give us confidence and courage. She is lovable, that is, because she is profoundly concerned with our own welfare and provides us with all that is good in the world.

CURB HOSTILE EMOTIONS

The child, on the other hand, becomes lovable and worthy of these gifts only if he learns to curb the hostile emotions that inevitably arise toward the parent. Gradually he realizes that he must offer love to his parents in return for theirs. In substance, a "good" child is one who gives up hate as a means of getting what he wants in life.

The secret of true lovability lies in the combined virtues derived from this reciprocal pattern of exchange. All of us retain a childlike core in our natures, and in our dealings with other people throughout life we constantly search for substitutes to replace the good parents of our infancy.

ANOTHER HALF

But there is another half to the story of our search for love. Although we always remain in part a child, we also grow up and become adults in our own right. Once we attain this status, other people inevitably look to us as replacements for the good parents of their infancy. We, too, are now expected to give help, sympathy, and understanding—to provide others with a parent's love and protection. We are thus confronted with a hopeless stalemate unless we find a way to adjust our mutually opposing claims. If we are to establish satisfactory bonds of love with one another on a mature level, we must somehow manage to meet each other's requirements.

LIFE IS A TRADE

Reality teaches us that all life, in a sense, is a trade; and in emotional matters, too, we cannot buy unless we also have something to sell. If we persist in holding on to the relatively passive role of a child—(even the "good" child)—we will have to remain content, at best, with the favors that others may see fit to bestow. When we do so,

It is only when we ourselves act as good parents that we achieve man's most enduring victory—the power to initiate our own circle of love. When we offer help, sympathy, and encouragement to others, we give them reason to forego their own hostilities and to come forward with support in return. We thus create a subtle exchange of love which feeds itself endlessly once it is set in motion. It then becomes a self-generating force that continually forges new bonds of love and causes our lives to expand into an ever-widening sphere of activity and communication. In this way we rise to our fullest stature as human beings, earn the loving admiration of our companions, and so move triumphantly into the company of leaders and heroes among mankind.
